

the student who may wish to enter the armed forces or the defense research establishments. The programme calls for military education along the same lines as, and closely integrated with, University education, so planned that neither one will interfere with the other. It provides for the creation of a greater sense of responsibility among University students for the defense of their country, an opportunity to earn a King's Commission in the Army while the student continues his University studies, professional careers in the Canadian Army, Active Force, or Commissions in the Canadian Army, Reserve Force, and an opportunity to get Army pay to assist the financing of University courses. Not only in consideration of these opportunities does the course appear attractive. Four months summer camp is included in the programme which will provide for the development of a healthy body and alert mind, with pay added.

This is a very valuable course for all those who have an interest in making the Army a profession, or for those who are interested in doing something towards building a Reserve Force in preparation for an emergency.

This editorial is not intended as a campaign for Army recruits. It may set some student clear as to what the new Canadian Officers Training Corps programme has to offer. It may help some decide on an Army career, an admirable choice. Or it may help some decide that the C.O. T.C. offers nothing for them but extra work and no actual summer vacation, in the true sense of the word. We hope it may be of some value to you in making your choice.

COLLEGE CHRONICLE

Due to the unfortunate polio epidemic during August and September the opening of college was delayed until October First this year. Since that time however there has been a great deal of activity about the campus. Enrolment this year, including day students, totalled about two hundred and seventy. With this number on hand there is naturally a great deal of reporting to do. Shall we be off?

* * * * *

This year a number of the old familiars are missing around the campus. Last year's graduating class, a fine group of young men, and also some members of the faculty have left the hallowed walls of old St. Dunstan's. It may be of interest to many to note the whereabouts of our old friends with a little information on just what they are doing.

* * * * *

Rev. Francis MacQuaid was relieved of his duties as Bursar and left to take a new post in Kinkora. Father MacQuaid is greatly missed by students and faculty alike and the good wishes of all go with him.

Dr. H. L. Johnston Ph. D., another old stalwart whose loss is keenly felt, has taken a position at Aquinas University, Grand Rapids, Mich. We wish him every success.

Rev. E. J. Roche, who began his teaching career here last year, is also absent. He is now studying at Notre Dame in South Bend, Ind. He will return here after completing his course.

Dr. J. T. Croteau, who taught here in past years and who was very active in the local co-operative movement, has returned to the United States where he has accepted a position at Xavier University in Cincinnati.

Rev. J. Wilfred Pineau, M.A., who taught French for the past two years, has been appointed administrator of Mt. Carmel parish. We are certain of his success and all here wish him the best.

* * * * *

Six of last year's graduates are studying for the supreme vocation, the Priesthood. James Kelly, an original with the class of '46, has entered Grand Seminary in Quebec. Raymond Gallant is studying at the White Fathers' Novitiate in Quebec. Thomas McLellan is at St. Augustine's Seminary in Toronto. Howard Shea has entered the Foreign Missions Novitiate at Nazareth House, Toronto. The last three are also originals of the class of '46. Francis Corcoran and James Smith are at Holy Heart Seminary in Halifax.

A number from last year's graduating class have begun a career in the medical profession. Hubert O'Hanley and Don MacDonald are in first year medicine at McGill. Frank O'Keefe has entered the medical school at Dalhousie. Raymond Lamarche, Fernand Dery and Bernard Parent are studying medicine at Laval University. Fernand Pelleties is in the same field at Montreal University.

Jacques Sarasin is studying pharmacy at Montreal University.

Marcel Genest, Marc Trepanier, Marius Crete and Gratien Marquis are preparing for a career in dentistry at Montreal University.

We have one potential lawyer among last year's graduates. George Smith is studying law at the University of Toronto.

Ivan Farmer is working with a chemical distributing firm in Montreal. He plans to enter first year medicine at McGill next year.

Joseph J. MacDonald and Maurice Smith are at present working in the United States. Their exact whereabouts is unknown to us.

Edward Gillis is working as laboratory technician at the Provincial Sanitorium.

Edward Laughlin is teaching at Prince of Wales College in Charlottetown and A. J. MacAdam is teaching at Loyola in Montreal.

Red and White would like to take this opportunity to wish all those who are not back this year, faculty and students, graduates and non-graduates, every success in their new endeavours.

* * * * *

With four of last year faculty gone, we have some additions to the staff this year.

In Father MacQuaid's place we have the very capable Rev. W. Simpson. Father Simpson is a graduate of St. Dunstan's. Before coming here he was Curate at Tracadie.

Mr. A. P. Campbell, M.A., an army veteran, has taken Dr. Johnston's position in the department of English.

Rev. Charles Gallant has charge of the French department this year.

Father Roche has been replaced by Mr. Joseph J. MacIsaac. Mr. MacIsaac is a recent graduate of St. Dunstan's and his many friends about the campus are glad to see him back again.

Red and White welcomes these new members of the faculty and wishes them every success in their new positions. We hope that their stay at St. Dunstan's will be a pleasant one.

* * * * *

While in a welcoming mood Red and White would like to take this opportunity to welcome all new students, with a special welcome to ex-servicemen. We hope that they will not find readjustment too difficult and wish them success in the coming year. We would like to add another special note of welcome to new co-eds. Although few in number, the co-eds of St. Dunstan's can always be depended upon to make a worthy contribution to college life.

* * * * *

Now that the welcoming is all taken care of let's see what has been going on around the campus during the past two months or so. All societies have been re-organized and are operating at full speed in their various fields.

The Students' Union, organized last spring, is something new around St. Dunstan's. The Union is functioning this year as a financial committee which appropriates funds to the various organizations on the basis of their estimated expenditures for the coming year. This year, instead of paying separate fees to all the societies the student pays a fixed amount which is collected by the Bursar with the regular tuition fee. The various societies then present a tentative budget to the Union, which votes them the amount they need to carry on.

As we go to press most of the budgets are in and the executive of the Union is busy studying them. The Union executive consists of President, Vice President, Secretary Treasurer, and representatives from every society of the campus. Positions this year are: President—J. E. Green; Vice President—L. Alexis MacDonald; Secretary Treasurer—E. J. Hemphill; Society Representatives: Athletic Association—H. Dunphy; Students' Council—R. Phelan; Debating Society—R. J. MacDougall; Dramatic Society—C. Kelly; Red and White—F. Bolger; Glee Club—J. McKenna; Faculty Advisor—Rev. J. P. O'Hanley.

* * * * *

The Students' Council, which will eventually be replaced by the Students' Union, is still very active about the campus this year. Under the direction of the Council, the Thursday afternoon socials have been resumed. These socials, begun by the Students' Council a few years ago, have become more or less traditional and are greatly enjoyed by all who attend.

A general meeting of all students, directed by the Students' Council, was held early in October. A welcome to all new students was extended by the Council's President, Mr. Francis Bolger, who gave the students a short talk on what was expected of them as students of St. Dunstan's. The business of the meeting consisted in filling vacancies in the executives of the various societies.

One of the major organizations on the campus is of course the Amateur Athletic Association. Under the able leadership of Harold Dunphy, popular sportsman and athlete, the association is doing a fine job promoting interest in the different sports on the campus.

At a general meeting of the association, presided over by the genial Mr. Dunphy, the students were given a lineup on the various athletic activities in which they could engage and were introduced to the executive of the association, which is as follows: President, Harold Dunphy; Vice President, D. Burge; Secretary Treasurer, F. Howlett; Football Manager, E. Smith; Hockey Manager, R. Carmichael; Basketball Manager, D. MacDonald; Softball Manager, F. Whalen; Trackmaster, C. MacDonald; Rink Manager, A. Farmer; I/C Volleyball, Handball, Table Tennis, E. J. Hemphill; Faculty Advisor, Rev. J. P. O'Hanley.

The C. C. S. M. C. is again active in its important work of aiding and promoting interest in the Missions. This society has done great work in past years and this year will be no exception.

The executive is as follows: President, D. Gillis; Vice President, D. Bourget; Secretary, R. Blacquiére; Magazine Distribution, R. J. MacDougall; Councillors, A. MacAulay, A. Farmer; Faculty Advisor, Rev. P. Wood.

* * * * *

At a meeting on October 10th, the St. Dunstan's Debating Society was organized again this year. The Society is a member of the M. I. D. L., and will take part in three intercollegiate debates this year. This is St. Dunstan's second year in intercollegiate debating and members of the Society are looking forward to a successful year.

Two representatives from St. Dunstan's, Mr. R. J. MacDougall and Mr. R. Phelan, attended the annual meeting of the M. I. D. L. in Halifax on November 4th and 5th when a schedule for the years debates was drawn up.

The executive of the Debating Society is as follows:

President, R. J. MacDougall; Vice President, R. Phelan; Secretary Treasurer, E. J. Hemphill; Journalist, D. Gillis; Councillors, J. McKenna, E. Gallant, L. Griffin.

A meeting of all those interested in dramatics was held on October 7th. The meeting was addressed by Mr. F. Bolger, President of St. Dunstan's Dramatic Society, and Rev. T. Butler, the Society's Faculty Advisor. Mr. Bolger and Father Butler both expressed their hopes for a big year in dramatics at S. D. U. and asked the students present, since they had shown an interest in dramatics by attending the meeting, to give the Society their whole-hearted co-operation throughout the year.

At present the Dramatic Society is rehearsing "Arsenic and Old Lace" which they hope to present sometime in November.

Members of the executive are: President, F. Bolger; Vice President, C. Murphy; Secretary, C. Kelly, Councillors, R. Blacquiére, J. Cairns; Faculty Advisor and Director, Rev. T. Butler.

* * * * *

The Glee Club is also active again this year and will work in co-operation with the Dramatic Society in presenting musical programs for the students. Under the direction of Clark MacAulay, the club is preparing a program to be presented in conjunction with the Dramatic Society's presentation of "Arsenic and Old Lace".

Glee Club executive: President, Clark MacAulay; Vice President, Derril MacGuigan; Secretary, J. McKenna; Councillors, L. McCarthy, P. Pendergast.

* * * * *

A comparatively new society, organized last year, the Photo Club is active again this year in its particular field. Officers of the Club are: President, R. J. MacDougall; Vice President, L. Atkins; Secretary, C. Sinnott; Councillors, J. S. MacDonald, A. Burge.

* * * * *

Another new organization is the Student Veterans Club, composed of ex-servicemen attending the college, which originated last year. The purpose of the Club is to give all possible assistance to veterans in their efforts to orientate themselves to their new surroundings.

The executive is as follows: President, F. MacAulay; Vice President, E. Hemphill; Secretary, C. Sinnott; Councillors, W. MacDonald, C. McKenna; Faculty Advisor, Rev. T. Butler.

Red and White wishes all societies and clubs a successful and prosperous year.

Construction seems to be the by-word around the college this year and we have to date two new landmarks on the campus. The first is the new residence, Memorial Hall, which is rapidly taking shape. When completed the building will be a three story brick structure and will be used to accommodate students of college years. At present the bricklayers are working on the third story. It is hoped to have the roofing on before winter sets in and work will continue inside during the year. Memorial Hall is the first step in plans for the overall enlargement of facilities at St. Dunstan's.

The other new landmark is the grandstand on the football field. As we go to press the stand is very nearly completed and needs only a few finishing touches. Red and White extends congratulations to the Athletic Association on their achievement and expresses thanks to all those, Alumni and present day students, who aided either financially or materially in the construction of the grandstand.

* * * * *

To the class of '33 we bring news of one of its most popular members, "Jimmy" Coyle. "Jimmy" was a good all round student in his days here and since leaving us has been busy making a name for himself. After his graduation he worked with the Patriot Publishing Company as a reporter until the beginning of the war. He enlisted immediately and soon earned a commission. After serving four years overseas, he returned to Canada in 1945. He entered McGill in the fall of 1945 to study for his M. A. and was later awarded the Mary Keenan scholarship. In recognition of his abilities he was appointed assistant professor of English. During the past summer he taught at Dawson College and this fall returned to McGill to resume his studies and teaching. "Jimmy" will graduate in the spring and Red and White extends to him the best wishes of his Alma Mater, Old St. Dunstan's.

The St. Dunstan's Contingent of the C. O. T. C., while not active as yet, has put forth a very lucrative plan for the training of Active and Reserve Force officers. Full details of the scheme are given in the editorial section of this issue.

Red and White extends congratulations to Mr. John Dalziel '49 who has been awarded a medal for gallantry in preventing a tragic drowning accident. Jack and two companions went to the aid of three people who got into difficulties while swimming in the Gulf. Good work Jack.

Rev. Father J. D. Murphy of the White Fathers visited the College in October and delivered a very interesting address to the students on the activities of the White Fathers in the missions of North Africa.

IN MEMORIAM

Red and White and all students express deepest sympathy to Miss Kathleen Keefe '49 on the sudden and untimely death of her father. R.I.P.

Alumni who were here in the years 1916-23 were grieved to hear of the death of Rev. J. C. MacDonald, which occurred on July 7th, last. Father J. C., as he was familiarly called, was for several years athletic coach when he was on the Staff here, and he could recount in detail every important play made in games of that time. His kindly disposition and spirit of fair play endeared him to all. May he rest in peace.

On Sept. 29th, the Very Venerable Jean Chiasson died in the Charlottetown Hospital. For many years he was our oldest alumnus; he was the dean of Canadian clergy, having been ordained more than sixty-eight years ago. His special interest for us, however, was that he had been Rector here sixty five years ago. Requiescat.

ATHLETICS

The beginning of the first semester of the College year always marks a revival of interest in sporting activities. This year is no exception; everywhere on the campus one hears the students airing their views on the various athletic activities of the College. Naturally at this time of year the fortunes of our football teams are the main topics of conversation, but now and then one hears the ardent hockey fan discussing the Saints' hockey team in eager an-
