

Alumni

The new year has already witnessed the ordination of two more of our Alumni. On Sunday, Jan. 3rd, His Lordship, Bishop O'Leary raised to the priesthood, James Rooney '17. Lucien Teasdale S. J. (B. A., 1905) was also elevated to the sacred dignity on the 26th of January in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Montreal. Father Rooney is now attached to the Cathedral staff, Charlottetown, while Father Teasdale is with the order in Montreal.

Frank McFhee, B.A., who has been connected with St. Dunstan's for the past year as Professor of English has removed to Georgetown to complete his legal studies. He is greatly missed by the Faculty, students and particularly by the Red and White staff. Our best wishes for success accompany him, and we expect ere long to find him ranked as one of the Island's most brilliant lawyers.

Father St. John has been transferred from the Cathedral Staff to Egmont Bay Parish.

Thomas Hagan, B.A., '18, is, according to latest reports, achieving quite a success as a "pedagogue" in the West.

Philip Holland one of last year's students has returned to his home in East Baltic.

Jules Gilbert of last year's Junior Philosophy Class is completing his course at the 'Varsity, Quebec.

On March 5th, we were favored with a visit from one of last year's brilliant Juniors, Mr. Patrick Goodwin, Kensington. Shortly after college closed last May he almost succumbed to an attack of pleurisy; now, however, he is back to his pristine strength and vigor and devotes much of his time to investigating the whims and caprices of the fair sex. We sincerely trust, however, that he will escape becoming enamored with their charms and that next year he will return, a sedate Senior, to his Alma Mater.

Necrology

Since our last issue we have learned with much regret of the death on Feb. 15th of Leo Eagen, Lot 65. As a student last year he won the esteem and friendship of his classmates and fellow students by his uprightness of character and pleasing personality. Last autumn he decided to discontinue his course and remained at home. Here he contracted the illness which finally proved fatal. His death so early in life has cast a deep gloom over his family and friends, to all of whom Red and White extends its sincere sympathy.
