St. Patrick's Day

March 17 is an important date at St. Dunstan's, for on that day we celebrate the feast of the patron of all true Irishmen. This year a number of the older students of Irish descent honored their patron Saint by participating in the annual parade of the B. I. S. These students are to be commended for their loyal endeavour to make this parade a greater success.

The Illustrated Lecture

On Friday evening, April 1, Rev. Father Lally, S.J., of Toronto gave a very interesting and instructive illustrated lecture. He began with the life of Our Saviour. He then illustrated the lives and characters of the pilgrims, and the early martyrs of Canada. Particularly touching were the scenes drawn from the lives of Fathers, Breboeuf, Lalemant and Daniel, who among many others sacrificed their lives to propagate the word of God.

Many of us, perhaps, for the first time realized the true greatness of our Martyrs, when we saw their character and martyrdom portrayed by Father Lally.

Father Lally has been chosen to interest the laity so that the veneration of our martyrs may be increased, and, judging from the character of the presentation he made at St. Dunstan's, we are certain that he is very successful in fulfilling his mission.

St. Dunstan's Dramatic Society

This society which was formed last year has added another successful year to its career, and Rev. Father Francis, the moderator, is to be congratulated on its success. Last year the University players won fame in "The Confession," and their last play, "The Cuban Spy" has assured their popularity.

"The Cuban Spy" was presented on April 20, and 21, in Rochford Square Hall, under the distinguished patronage of His Honor Lieutenant Governor, Sir Charles Dalton, and His Worship Mayor Stewart.

The large attendance on both evenings and at the children's matinee showed the popularity and worth of the production. Each of the actors performed his part excellently and these young players are to be congratulated for their splendid entertainment.

"The Cuban Spy" is a four act comedy-drama by Dumont and in several of the roles much dramatic skill is required. But our players showed their ability to dramatize these parts. The comedy was also good and in this, several of our young players excelled themselves. A factor which contributed much to the success of the production was the splendid facial "make-ups" by Mr. J. Austin Trainor, a popular dramatic coach of Charlotte-town.

On Wednesday May 12, the play will be repeated at Tracadie, and we are sure it will meet the same success.

The specialties were also very entertaining and much appreciated. They included solos by Francis MacMillan and Dan Fogarty, and a Ducky Dialogue by Albert McKinnon and Joseph MacMahon.

The orchestra was under the direction of Mr. Alex MacLean. Piano, A. MacLean; Violin, R. Ramsay; Saxophone, J. Cote; Drums, A. Nelson.

The following is the cast of characters:

Necrology

To Joseph Smith, on the death of his father, Red and White extends its sincere sympathy.

There is a pleasure in the pathless woods;
There is rapture on the lonely shore;
There is society, where none intrudes,
By the deep sea, and music in its roar:
I love not man the less, but Nature more.

—Byron

I love everything that's old: old friends, old times, old manners, old books, old wine.—Goldsmith.

Politeness is to human nature what warmth is to wax.

—Schopenhauer

Of all the causes which conspire to blind
Man's erring judgment, and misguide the mind;
What the weak head with strongest bias rules,—
Is pride, the never-failing vice of fools.

—Pope
