

ALUMNI

Easter, the season of triumphant joy throughout Christendom and the greatest feast of the Church year, is again upon us. Red and White joins its voice to the universal rejoicing of the feast of the Resurrected Christ and we whose magazine it is send the best wishes of this season to the "Old Boys" whose magazine it was.

Some of you for whom this section of the magazine is set apart may be surprised and disappointed at the meagre amount of material in this issue. We will not attempt to lay the blame at anybody's door, but your Editor is sure that there are many things of interest to Alumni which will never reach Red and White if some of you do not send us the information. The Secretary of the Alumni Association is invaluable when it comes to supplying news, but even he cannot keep in touch with a great many "goings-on" in the lives of our Alumni. So, for a more interesting Alumni section, sit down and write us a letter with some news in it, or, if you want information about the members of your class or some friend of college days, write, and we will do our best to provide it.

Felicitations are due Rev. H. J. McKenna, '07, pastor of Owatona, Minn., who celebrated the silver jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood on January 3, 1938. Father McKenna is a native of St. Theresa's Parish. He has been stationed in Winona Diocese, Minn., since his ordination there in 1913. Prior to his appointment to Owatona, Father McKenna had had a very successful teaching career at St. Mary's College, Winona. He visited his home parish and St. Dunstan's during the summer of 1936. Ad Multos Annos.

Members of the class of '33 will be interested to know that Robert Ramsay, one of their number, is studying Theology with the Paulists.

We tender a rather belated but none the less hearty welcome to Dr. Loyola Duffy who has entered the professional ranks in Charlottetown. Dr. Duffy has completed his course in dental surgery at McGill. This is enough to warrant him the success which we whole-heartedly wish to him.

Whether his errand to the Island be one of sorrow or of joy, Archbishop McGuigan always finds time to pay us a visit. Red and White sympathizes deeply with His Grace of Toronto on the death of his brother. He lost a brother and we lost a very fine friend.

Red and White tenders a word of commendation and of wishes of success to Frank Dunn, B.A., '36, and to Jerome O'Brien, B.A., '37, of Morell Parish, P. E. I. Mr. Dunn and Mr. O'Brien are largely responsible for the establishment of a parish Credit Union. The former is Sec'y-Treas. of the co-operative society and the latter is President. They are setting a fine example of leadership for Catholic young men.

We were more than interested to receive a short note and a parish year-book from a former Managing Editor of the old Collegium. Rev. John E. O'Brien, '94, parish priest at St. Mary's Church, Coupeville, Wash., U. S. A. Father O'Brien ministers to several other parishes besides St. Mary's. He may be surprised to find that the Collegium is no more; but we hope he will not be disappointed in Red and White.

John Cameron, ex-'25, was recently appointed Island representative for the Canada Life Insurance Co. Mr. Cameron's headquarters are in Charlottetown.

Red and White extends wishes for a speedy recovery to Hazen McLellan, '23, and Elmer Murphy, ex-'34 who are at present in the Provincial Sanatorium.

John T. O'Meara, '28, after an absence of ten years in different parts of Canada and the United States, returned to his native Brockton, Lot 4, shortly before Christmas where he has spent the winter. Mr. O'Meara is President of the Class of '28.

Mr. Stephen L. Kelly, ex-'27, is now the head of a happy home in New York. This former student holds an important railroad position in the American metropolis.

IN MEMORIAM

DR. M. A. McGUIGAN

Sorrow entered the hearts of the many friends and relatives of Dr. M. A. McGuigan of Charlottetown when on February 20th, 1938, he was called home by his Eternal Father. Dr. McGuigan's death came as a shock to many because he had been ill only a very short time.

The deceased spent three years at St. Dunstan's before going to Tuft's Medical School to take up his course in dental surgery. He had been practising in Charlottetown for several years prior to his passing.

Red and White tenders whole-hearted sympathy to his grief-stricken mother, to his Grace Archbishop of Toronto and to the other members of the family.

JOSEPH McCARTHY

Red and White also tenders condolences to the family and friends of Joseph McCarthy, ex-'25, formerly of Morell Parish, P. E. I. who died recently in New York City. Requiescat in Pace.

The following tribute comes out of the far west, from a graduate of more than thirty years ago. Red and White gladly publishes it as a record of his constant loyalty to the old College. We know there are many with similar feelings.

OUR ALMA MATER

There is in eastern Canada,
On an Island by the sea,
An old and venerable pile
That I would point out to thee.

No sculpture marks its surface,
No carvings on the door,
Just a modest, plain, brick building,
Yet, rich in learning's lore.

We sat within its class rooms,
And imbibed, as best we could,
The wisdom of its teachers,
Great men, both wise and good.

They teach you faith and morals,
Letters and science, too,
And the richest gems of knowledge
Daily they impart to you.

To some it is just a college,
To others, just a name,
But—who walked its halls of learning,
Now grace the halls of fame.

Life flows on too quickly,
The years go swiftly by,
Like the pointed streaks of lightning
That pierce the clouded sky.

But old St. Dunstan's stands there,
An endless Beacon Light
To those who seek deep learning,
To those who would live RIGHT.

If we could ask a favor,
When we come to breathe our last,
'Twould be—God bless St. Dunstan's
For her efforts, unsurpassed.

Let us appear nor rash nor diffident:
Immoderate valor swells into a fault;
And fear, admitted into public councils,
Betrays like treason.
