RUMBLINGS AND GRUMBLINGS

By MIKE McCORMICK

Editors and other such people have long claimed that apathy is king in and around SDU; and for the most part they are right. However, there has always been one small band of semi-political infighters whose sole role in student affairs is that of a behind the scenes director and they are far from apathetic. One wishes they were. There is one such chap on campus who is in his second year of non elective student organizer, and now he is starting to get dirty. His weapons are clandestine phone calls, malice and the swaying of fickle and uninformed student opinion. His efforts almost reached their fulfillment last week when two students were nearly screwed in the ear. However, it was only nearly. Thanks to the goodwill of a student board involved directly in campus affairs, this minor oilcan Harry was foiled again, but keep your eyes and ears open because he is bound to try again. And take our word for it, most of his undercover activities are founded on sour grapes...

Adolf Hitler is alive and kicking and lives in Charlottetown. There are few semites on the Island, so he picks on the world's next most downtrodden race, students. His legions are no longer the brown shirted S.S. or S.A. bands, and they have to keep up a thin veneer of respectability, but basically they are the same as they were in 1937. One student had his room searched, and reports have it that Adolf grimaced when he found that Anne Frank had escaped. You almost had it made Adolf, but you screwed it... We will admit that there might be extenuating circumstances, and that you might have been called in and then faked it, but the incident itself indicates that your presence on campus is totally undesirable.

Lots of activity in the residences these days. By now you have already heard about the several regrettable instances of the past weekend, but by no means should these be taken as typical. A lot of faculty members are already saying "I told you so", but they are wrong. What they predicted would happen is not occurring and probably never will. Don't listen to them... Yet...

Residents are complaining that the rooms where the brooms, mops and wax are stored are locked too often. Now the powers that be have decided to open them early in the morning when everyone is still asleep, or at class. There must be a reason for this closed-fistedness, but we can't figure it out... Warning to Townies who come out to drink in the residences, watch your asses. Most of the residents don't appreciate your regular company, and have complained... No student I.D. cards yet. The pictures are in, the cards are in, but they just haven't been put together yet.

Notice to the powers that be. Apparently you are considering cancelling the installment of lounges in the residences because of the supposed amount of vandalism. Forget it. You have it all wrong. Most of what you call vandalism can be related directly to the absence of the lounges in the first place. Boredom can drive people to do a lot of funny things...

Beware of that circular going around re your attitude to liquor. A lot of the questions are of the type where either of the indicated responses means the same as any other. Like the old saying, "Have you stopped beating your wife? Answer yes or no..."

Look for more enlightened discovery weekends to come in the future. Father Kelly is looking into some radically new approaches... Now that the PWC student council went broke in one weekend, you can look for a slightly less interesting carnival, because they probably won't be able to split the cost with SDU. We may have to go it alone. However the carnival is always a blast; no matter what is arranged, it is usually the impromptu affairs that come off best... No Prof of the week award. As far as we know they have all been very good...

So far no decisions of any import have come out of the talks on the new university. One thing is almost decided though. They will probably have a dynamic salesman type as president... This indecision and bickering is causing delay in a lot of areas, e.g. the erection of a student union building, an arts building, and even the wording on degrees...

No improvement in the processing of food over in the cafeteria. The lines are still just as long and the food is still just as ???... Nothing will happen in this field for the next few years unless someone makes an in-depth study of the situation and comes up with some good suggestions...

The chief of the SDU security police would appreciate it if cars left overnight during the winter were to be parked in the lot directly behind the gym, and next to the tennis court. That way the snow can be cleared off the rest of the lots for the next day... Also, if you have found or lost anything recently, check in at the cop shop... Et les mots pour cette semaine... Mangez et Machez...
