

Charlottetown. The efficiency of the actors is due to the enthusiasm of the Moderator, Rev. J. C. McDonald and the director, Prof. J. K. Godkin, A.B.

The Personae Dramatis in order of appearance were as follows:—

Jim Duncan .....	R. D. Howatt
Harry Gibbs .....	W. J. McDonald
Peter .....	Merlin McCarthy
Daniel Taylor .....	P. F. Hughes
Sarah Peabody .....	Westerman Gordon
Ethel Cartwright .....	Charles O'Hanley
Clarence Cartwright .....	W. E. Power
Michael Harrington .....	Neil Nolan
Lambert .....	Frank Cain
Nora Rutledge .....	Frank Doucette
Mrs. Harrington .....	Charles Trainor
Monte Vaughn .....	R. McKinnon
Stephen Denby .....	Leo Nelligan

---

Our Alumni.

Nothing strange or startling has been wafted to Red and White concerning our "old boys." None have been guilty of any indiscretions except some few, and these are accused only of having "done, gone and got married."

With this issue our duties are completed and as a parting request we ask that in the future all ex-students should send along any news they think would interest their old college friends. This department could then fulfill its obvious purpose—the keeping alive of a bond between "Saints", wherever they be, and "Old St. Dunstan's."

On Saturday, May 21st, two of our 1917 graduates, Francis Arsenault and Alfred McIntyre entered the sacerdotal ranks. Their ordination took place in Quebec, His Eminence Cardinal Begin officiating. Father Arsenault has been assigned to the diocese of Calgary under Bishop McNally and Father McIntyre