

The Funny Man

Great is a man's ability,
To curb his risibility,
And see no humor in the other bloke
When he's the victim of the joke.

Keeper of Dormitory: "Bradley, why are you whispering?"

Bradley: "Because you wont let me talk aloud."

Bus. Mgr: "Well, Frank, how many orders did you get today?"

Coady: "I got two orders in one place."

Bus. Mgr: "That's the stuff, what were they?"

Coady: "One was to get out and the other was to stay out."

Joe: "There is a fly in your soup, Bull."

Bull: "Serves the brute right, he's been buzzing around here all morning."

O'Leary: "Where are you going to spend your holidays, Pop?"

Pop: "I am going to Florence."

Prof. of Physics: "Explain the Method of Weighing by Substitution."

Dinny: "Place the material to be weighed on one pan of the balance, then balance this by some other substance, say grains of sand."

Prof: "Correct, go on."

Dinny: "Then guess the weight of the sand, and you have the answer."

Prof: "I believe that you might speak a little more intelligently if you had a little more sleep before coming to this class."

Bradley: "Yes Sir, but you see I had only one class before this one."

Emmet: "What is the greatest necessity in all walks of life?"

MacAvinn: "Shoes."

Prof: (In Geography:) "Give me the abbreviation for mountain."

Griffin, patting his head: "mt" (empty.)

Claton: "I slept like a log last night."

Ambrose: "You had a head start."

HOT DOGS

Nine little doggies,
Sizzling on a plate.
In came the boarders
And then they were ate.

Dinny: "The dentist told me that I had a large cavity that needed filling."

Louis D. "I must go and see him, I think I have the same."

Art: "Doodad certainly did well in English."

Archie: "No feather in his hat, he rooms with Shakespeare."

Dunphy: "Is my moustache trimmed evenly?"

Frank: "I don't know, I can't see it."

Fair One: "What a pity it is that handsome men are always so awfully conceited."

Si: "Oh! not always, my dear, I am not."

Cullen: "Why did you leave the smoker so early ast night?"

Dick: "Aw! I reached the end of my rope."

She (seeing some rabbits on exhibition,) "Oh! I'd love to have a bunny of my own."

Rabbit: "Dear, do you really mean it?"

Allen: "Have you ever tried to masticate your food thoroughly?"

Bull: "Have I? Well I should say so. I ate my dinner on the train once and I was chewing at the rate of a mile a minute."

Prof: "What student was so rude as to laugh out loud?"

Donald: "I laughted up my sleeve and there was a hole in the elbow."

Gerard: "If Wilfred stood on a dime what would it represent?"

Lewis: "I give it up?"

Gerard: "Woolworth's, nothing over ten cents."

Doc: "What would you do if you could play the piano like me?"

Grasshopper: "I'd take lessons."

Louis: "How did you get along in your Algebra exam?"

Donald: "Very well."

Louis: How many sums did you have wrong?

Donald: "Only one."

Louis: "Good. How many were there?"

Donald: "Twelve."

Louis: "Splendid! And all the others were right?"

Donald: "Oh, no, I didn't do them."

George A: "I was told in my early youth that if I didn't quit smoking cigarettes, I'd be feeble-minded when I grew up."

Leo C: "Well, why didn't you stop?"

Archie: "I think Driscoll will become a very distinguished man if he lives long enough."

Art: "What do you think he will be distinguished for?"

Archie: "Longevity, if he lives long enough."

CAN YOU IMAGINE

Ben Rogers as a pugilist?

Dinny looking pale?

Lummox with a girl?

Huck using talcum powder?

A Goose without wings?
