
St. Dunstan's Red and White

VOL. XXXVII.

MAY, 1946

NO. 3

Subscription, 75 Cents a Year.Payable in Advance.

STAFF

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF Francis J. O'Keefe, '46

ASSISTANT-EDITOR John Eldon Green, '47

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

CHRONICLE Thomas MacLellan, '46

ATHLETICS Cyril Sinnott, '49

NONSENSE AVENUE Francis Corcoran, '46
Charles Holland, '47

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS

Bernard Parent, '46

Patricia Pendergast, '48

Michael Hennessey, '48

John S. MacDonald, '49

BUSINESS MANAGERS

Everett Cameron, '46

Francis Bolger, '47

Allan Noonan, '48

EDITORIALS

COLLEGE SPIRIT

During the past four years of college we have heard college spirit discussed, made the object of pep talks, and compared with that permeating other campuses. But too often many students mistake an over-enthusiasm in some one department of college life, generally athletics, for that broader and more stable complex of attitudes to the different phases of college activity.

It is difficult to define something so obtruse as college spirit in an intelligible way, and consequently a definition is seldom ventured even by those who never tire of harping on it. College spirit is an intangible vital force, or soul, that a college can acquire through good student material