The Funny Man

Coach—Do you think we have many shooting stars on our hockey team this year?

Moderator-No but there are plenty falling stars!

Owen—Who is to supply the eats for the skate?

Alex—It is not decided yet, but Russel has been for some time making negotiations at the Bakery.

Alf—I've always thought it would be fine to be a poet!

Stephen-It certainly should be fine or imprisonment or both.

Henri—It seems to me those eggs are rather small. Grocer—They are sir! we have to keep all kinds to suit our customers.

Fatty—I am indebted to you for everything I know! Prof.—Pray dont mention such trifles.

Fireman—Do you know of anything that's good for Burns?

Glen-I don't know, I've tried everything.

MacDougall—Say! is it true that you are going to hire as a chauffeur?

Conway-No I'm going to run my own Carr-

IN PARLIAMENT

Premier—I am taking my stand on our records during the term of the past administration.

Voice from the Opposition—That's right if you want to keep your place hold them down.

RECTIFYING A MISTAKE OF NATURE

Admiring Damsel—What a finely chiselled mouth you have! it ought to be on a lady's face.

Russel-Well, I seldom miss an opportunity.

POPULAR SELLERS

How Woolworth Made His MillionsC. Conw	ay
The Streets of Camrose F. McKen	ina
Traité d' Acoustique	ere
Heard from the Hallway R. Brown	wn
Does It Pay to Advertise?	ith
Amateur Hockey S. McQua	aid
The Stage and its Attractions Ed. Clint	on
Reminiscences of the "Locals" G. Morris	on
The Delights of Early Rising Doyle and MacDoug	call

N. B.—Another volume by the author of "How Woolworth Made His Millions" is at present in course of publication. The new volume will be entitled "A Case of Mistaken Identity" and, no doubt, will command a large sale.

路路

You will find that silence or very gentle words, are the most exquisite revenge for reproaches.

Pride flows from want of reflection and ignorance of ourselves. Knowledge and humility come upon us together.