Father Larry Dies

On February 16, 1968, St. Dunstan's University said good-bye forever to one of its best-loved priests, Rev. Lawrence Landrigan. Taken ill just prior to the beginning of the fall term at SDU, Father Landrigan was taken to the Victoria General Hospital in Halifax, where he spent most of his time up until his death.

Fr. Larry, as he was affectionately referred to by both students and faculty, found a lasting place in the hearts of all who knew him. His love of music, his booming laugh, his cheerful whistle, and his affectionate "Hello Pet" were all characteristics which set him apart and made him the "big Daddy" on campus.

Along with teaching in the English Department, and managing the University Bookstore, Fr. Landrigan served as Chaplain at Marian College for the two years previous to his illness. This gave him a special place in the hearts of the girls and Sisters who lived there. Many benefited from his spiritual or personal advice, or simply from his friendly and sincere interest.

The love and respect which Fr. Landrigan engendered in those around him did not die on Feb. 16. Nor will it in the near future, for his was a personality to be remembered.

FATHER LARRY

Fr. Landrigan will be remembered by the Foreign Students, who were his special friends, for his kindness to them. He will be remembered by the priests, the Sisters, the students, by those who worked for him and with him, for his generosity, his humour, and his goodness. He will be remembered by those who knew him in no other role than as the "friendly Giant" behind the cash register in the Bookstore, the man who was never too tired to talk, or too busy to listen.

would mixed locker rooms.

ALLAN MACNEVIN

A tavern would be an asset; so

"THE KID" Inquires ALAN MACKENZIE

Everyone bitches about the dullness on campus so we went looking for answers to this. "Have you any suggestions to improve the social scene at S.D.U.?

Importing some of the sharp girls from P.W.C. More of the atmosphere prevalent during Winter Carnival and election

JOAN SUTHERLAND

Mixed lounges are definitely necessary. Give $10 a week to every guy on campus and tell them what to do with it. Give them a few phone numbers.

ANITA CAMPBELL

Some kind of activities that won't breed as much tension as we have. It might be the fact that we are doing the same thing every weekend.

ROSEMARY DOVER

More student participation in dances, etc., behind the class presidents. Have a Sadie Haw-kin's Weekend. Like, one out of every four.

Letters to the Editor

THIS IS OUR LAST

s quite ser of we boy and it is

ne of istic co t down

We would like to say: Goodbye and Thanks a lot. Thanks a lot, Students' Council. Thanks a lot, all our critics who never wrote. Thanks a lot, all those fans who never wrote.

We've had an uphill fight with people and among ourselves. We've learned a lot but we won't say what. If we have pleased a few, that's great. If we have offended some, that's life.

The editors and staff, for the most part, have had a ball. We've tried to get more people involved. We've tried to leave some semb-lance of a staff behind. We hope that the groundwork has been worked. With technique behind us perhaps the new editor can get down to the real problems facing the college. We've touched a few There are three things we would like to say before we leave:

1) Sex isn't the only thing on

2) Let's not be so petty, people, and

3) The Red & White is nothing more than the people who make it. If you want a radically new and shocking Red & White, then the radicals have to join and make the paper. That's something we discovered: The Red & White is a personality.

Again: Goodbye Shalom!
It's been fun.

The Editor-in-Chief
The Editors and the Staff.

FRIENDS, CLASSMATES AND PROFESSORS

Dear Sir:

The time has passed swiftly since May 1966. My memory of the wonderful days at Saint Dunstan's becomes more clouded with each passing day. This fact is a source of displeasure to me for I felt that I could never forget the University, the friends and the many moments of joy experienced on Prince Edward Island. My only consolation is the realization that I am a human being; selfish, forgetful, lazy and just plain imperfect.

One becomes involved in his new life outside of university. His environment, friends, work, and problems are new and different. The university and my classmates have become farther removed. Friend-ship and love must be continually worked at in order for it to grow and become strong. Unfortunate-ly we are all guilty of not work-ing as hard as we should. We must work to preserve even the memory of the days we cherished in our past. It seems so easy to forget, so hard to remember.

Lest we despair there is a consolation for us all. There is an intangible which cannot be forgotintangible which cannot be forgotten. For all of us Saint Dunstan's becomes a part of us. Certain characteristics pertaining to the nature of the school and its ideals are adopted by us, consciously or unconsciously they will remain with us forever. For this I will be eternally grateful for I know that Saint Dunstan's, the Faculty and my classmates have made me a better person. I thank you all. better person. I thank you all. Please, let us try not to forget.

Yours truly Joseph W. Condon '66

FR. DUFFY OFF TO B.C.

Rev. Dr. Regis Duffy has been invited to the University of British Columbia on February 23 where he will present a paper, "Pesticides and Their Metabalites" found in soils in the four Atlantic

This research work was carried out by Fr. Duffy and Nicholas wong (a 1967 graduate of SDU, presently taking graduate work in chemistry at the Cast Institute, Cleveland, Ohio).

The conference is sponsored by the National Soil Fertility Com-mittee, and will be presented at the Canadian Department of Agriculture Research Station on the UBC campus.

This study is part of a current research interest, where Fr. Duffy is attempting to discover how che micals, used in agriculture, break down and change in a biological Finis

I would personally like to commend you on the last issue of the Red & White. I realize that the effort that the entire staff makes for every issue is never really apfor every issue is never really appreciated or even given a second thought by most readers. As long as some articles interest a particular reader, the paper is a "good" issue in his mind. However, let a few items of topical interest that have little bearing on the reader enter into the picon the reader enter into the picture, immediately the paper becomes "mediocre" in his mind.

The last edition in my opinion was the best of the student journalistic efforts that I have seen in quite a while at S.D.U. Every article, from the Victorious head-lines, through the essay on Alcoholism to the "Off the Cuff" column, provided the reader with reasons to be happy, to be concerned, and to think.

Soon the new editor will be chosen and a new staff organized. You, sir, have led your staff well but let us all hope that the coming issues will excel your fine efforts. As Sir Winston Churchill proudly proclaimed: "This is not the end. It is not even the beginning of the end, But it is, perhaps, the end of the beginning."

> Maureen Nantes, Junior Arts.

Dear Sir:

We read your editions of the Red & White with delight. The layout, content, and choice of articles are as a rule to be com-mended. The endeavour to impart an idea, a spirit, or a fact.

We would add a warning regarding the selection of topics. There are a few articles in each edition which do not merit the attention they receive. Because of their shock effect, words like "bork" and "rape" tend to attract readers. Many never get far beyond these to the more elevations education activate their ing, educating articles, thus their impression of the paper is initially and totally below the good intentions desired.

This does not imply that wit and humour are not desired. They are necessary in any college newspaper. They should be, though, constructive and elevating, and thus, raising the standard of public impression that the paper creates.

Most students have little know-ledge of the impact that St. Dunledge of the impact that St. Dunstan's has on the people of this province. Every public utterance of this highly regarded institution is closely and rigidly scrutinized and thereby casts a reflection felt by the public.

It is with this in mind that we want to warn you of the effect of eye-catching trivia. But above all we want to congratulate the staff on a very readable and educating paper and hope that future staffs will uphold the high standards of the Red & White.

Ronald Gallant '67 Larry Henry '67

YOUR FAVORITE SHOPPING CENTRE

WELCOMES the students of S.D.U.

"THE LATEST IN MEN'S & LADIES" FASHIONS" AWAIT YOU AT

MOORE & MCLEOD LTD.

CONFEDERATION PLAZA

CHARLOTTETOWN

MILTON'S OLD SPAIN

RESTAURANT

151 KENT STREET

CHARLOTTETOWN

DIAL 894-4336