

ALUMNI

As we prepare the final issue of our magazine, we have received the glad news that several of our Alumni are to be raised to the dignity of the priesthood. On May 31st there will be ordained in the Cathedral at Charlotte-town, Louis Callaghan, Edward Clinton, Martin Monaghan, William McCabe, Joseph Sullivan and Patrick McMahon, and at a later date, Leo Nelligan and Jean Buote will be ordained in Tignish.

James Johnston, B.A., '20, who has been studying law in the office of J. J. Johnston, K.C., has passed his final examinations. Red and White extend best wishes for a brilliant career.

Thomas Morris, a former student, has entered business with his brother at Douglastown, Gaspe, P.Q.

Allan O'Leary, who completed fourth year work here is Exchange Editor for the College Magazine at Dayton University, Dayton, Ohio.

We wish to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McEachern on the birth of a son. Joe, who graduated in 1918, with a B.A. degree, is now located in Chicago.

Ray Johnston, D.M.D., is practising his profession in Jamaica Plains, Mass.

St. Clair Trainor, B.A. '23, who is studying law in the office of Mark R. McGuigan, B.A., has passed his first law examinations.

James A. McDougall, M.D., B.A. '15, is located in Rumford Falls, where he has an extensive practice.

Congratulations to H. J. Morrissey of Queen Square School, and a former student of St. Dunstan's, on his election as President of the P. E. Island Teacher's Union.

John C McAulay, a former student, is employed with the C.P.R. at Montreal.

An invitation is hereby extended to former students to use this department to keep in touch with their college chums and Alma Mater. Alumni should consider themselves sons of the University and their connections with Alma Mater quasi-filial. If you regard the relations in this light, you will not only be loyal to the institution, but you will benefit our magazine greatly. Before closing this department of Volume XVI of Red and White, the Editor wishes to thank those who have helped in any way to improve the Alumni columns.
