We were very pleased to hear, a short time ago, from Joseph Griffin, one of St. Dunstan's ex-students at St. Benedict's College, Atchinson, Kansas, where he is preparing for the Jesuit life. "Joe" is well and favorably remembered by his former class-mates who are indeed glad to hear of his noble choice. We thank Mr. Griffin for his words of commendation regarding our magazine and we wish him every success in his chosen profession.

The many friends of Roy B. Philips, an Alumnus of our University, will be more than pleased to hear of the success attending their old "pal," in the business world. Roy, who is now located in Kensington where he conducts an undertaking business, while at St. Dunstan's was quite a favorite among his class-mates. Red and White wishes Mr. Philips continued success.

It is not without regret that we realize that, with this issue of Red and White, our editorial duties in connection with the Alumni Department come to an end. It has always been, even when we found ourselves hard pressed for time, a pleasant duty—trying to do our little part to keep the Alumni of "Old St. Dunstan's" in touch with Alma Mater. We should have been more pleased had a larger number of Ex-Saints made use of this department of Red and White, But we are not ungrateful, to the contrary, rather; and we wish to take this opportunity of sincerely thanking all those students and alumni who have helped their department by their contributions.

And now before we lay aside our pen and sever our connections with Red and White,—just a word: Ex-student! wherever you may be—no matter what your occupation—it is to your advantage to keep in touch with Alma Mater. Do not forget her, for surely you realize what she has been to you. Do you remember the appeal sent you regarding our library? Give it more than a passing thought. It should be your wish and greatest pleasure to aid your Alma Mater to carry on in the manner in which you, who are privileged to be her sons, would have her carry on. The Alumni Society, we understand, is to be re-organized; new life is to be instilled into it. A spirit of enthusiasm and optimism is in the air. Let us all get into this spirit and become imbued with it, and let our motto be: "For Old St. Dunstan's, forward!"
