

The Funny Man

To you who have borne with me for a year,
I hope no joke has caused a tear,
For now 'tis true that we must part;
This is the last of the work of Art.

---

Prof. in Philosophy: "Did you ever see a miracle performed?"

Caron: "Yes, indeed."

Prof.: "When?"

Caron: "Every morning we see Lazarus arising."

---

Tub: "What game could Gandhi play without losing much?"

Sock: "Strip poker."

Peg: "What part of Porky does the Chink like best?"

Lester: "Why, the pig tail."

---

Joe Smith: "I lost my appetite at Easter."

Allen: "Yes, but you've found a horse's."

---

Fixit: "Aubrey, I hear your girl won't let you smoke when you're with her."

Aubrey: "No, because smoke is too hard on paint."

Coyle: "Thinking of me, dearest?"

Bud: "Was I laughing? I'm sorry."

---

Prof in History: "O'Connor, wake McQuaid up."

O'Connor: "Aw, do it yourself, you put him to sleep."

---

Eng. Prof.: "What is wrong with the sentence 'I have went for a walk'?"

Panama: "You haven't went yet, sir."

Alex (on football trip): "Be careful, there's a car behind."

Football Coach: "But I've never hit anyone behind a car yet."

We Wonder:

Why Sock became a BUDhist ?
 If Gandhi knows Lent is over ?
 Why Goldie likes the chapel (l) rose ?
 Who will be Judas' successor ?

---

Just Imagine:

Willie D. as Captain Kidd.
 Sap without Roger.
 Tub as a home-run king.
 The English Professor using a word of two syllables.

Song Hits

"I Kneel for Thee," composed by the Prefect of Discipline' music by G. Caron.
 "I'Malone," by J. Hughes.
 "The Campbells are Coming," by Sock and Gaffer.
 "L'Amour, Toujours L'Amour," by Roger Moffatt.
 "We're on the Bum Again," by the Graduating Class.
 "Close is the Link That Binds Us," Duet by the Jail-birds.

Lady in distress: "Is there no succor for me ?"
 Willie D.: "Wait ! I'm coming."

Tub: "Gee ! They're scared to race me. What do you think my handicap is ?"
 Kenny: "It may be you're face, but I think it's your form."

Ramsey: "Where did Jules learn the art of drawing ?"
 Angers: "Oh, he receives good courses from Florence."

Frog: "How did you get the right size for your ring ?"
 O'Connor: "I sent my finger away."

---

Bona: "What does the commercial teacher do when he runs out of carbon paper ?"
 Frog: "He sends for O'Connor."

---

Prof. in Physics: "Define 'Cold,' please."
 Bona: "Cold is the absence of the janitor."

Peg: "What sign should the Widow put out after she's stopped weeping?"

Doc.: "Why, 'Wet Paint,' I suppose."

Prof. Callaghan, after making a big score at Bridge: "It's all in the way you hold your mouth."

Sharkey: "I notice yours is open all the time."

Trites, (In the Refectory): "Why do you always have to open that window?"

Minnie: "Because the window won't open itself."

Ready (To waitress): "Do you call that mutton? Why that's an insult to any self-respecting sheep."

Waitress: "Sorry, sir, I did not mean to insult you."

Doc.: "Shea knows his onions."

Ram.: "Yes, he knows one member of the onion family very well."

Frog: "Minnie reminds me of an old maid."

Porky: "How's that?"

Frog: "He likes Kittens."

Jerry's Lament

Some say Fixit is a wanderer,
The worst you ever met.
But, friends, may I ask you,
Have you ever met Beaudet?

About the only thing, says an exchange, that can lay down on the job now and get results is a hen. We are convinced, however, that a student can lay down on the job and get similar results.

Trust men and they will be true to you: treat them greatly and they will show themselves great—Emerson

Be not bigoted to any custom as to worship it at the expense of truth.—Ximmerman.

We cannot always oblige, but we can always speak obligingly—Voltaire.
