

Charlottetown BUSINESS COLLEGE

AND INSTITUTE OF

SHORTHAND & TYPEWRITING

THIS centrally located and widely known business training institution re-opens for the Fall and Winter Courses on MONDAY, AUGUST 15TH, 1910. Intending students are asked in their own interests to enter on, or as soon after, the above date as possible. YOU expect much of us; give us an opportunity by entering early. Students may, however, enter any week day during the term.

Individual Instruction, Experienced Teachers, and Courses specially arranged to meet the requirements of business and professional men.

No nonsense with dry text books and keys. At the C. B. C. you get the real practical business training. No institution in Canada is doing more for our young men and women in educating and assisting them to good positions than

The Charlottetown Business College

YOU intend qualifying for a mercantile position: you should therefore attend an institution that makes a SPECIALTY of such work; that has a reputation among business men that will be of service in assisting you to a position when competent to fill one.

The C. B. C. can place One Hundred and Twenty-five competent young men in paying positions before February, 1911. Are YOU desirous of being one of the number? Then enter in August.

Call or write for 1910 Circular giving description of the Courses of Study, Civil Service, Prizes and other valuable information to students.

A SUPERIOR STORE!

An Example of Quality Insistency, Despite Little Pricing.

The wise man or woman knows that there is no economy in buying at a low price where quality is not assured. The apparel that is cheap in appearance and material is far from cheap in price eventually. But where quality is assured then moderate pricing is important. Our constant endeavor is not to see how cheap a thing may be made, but how GOOD it can be made at a certain popular price. For example we will take an appropriate timely illustration.

Men's Worsted Suits, at $15.00

$15.00 is a popular price for a suit. For some years we have sold a dark navy and black, all worsted, D B and S B suit at this price. Few stores cared to handle such a quality suit at $15. They preferred to argue that "a little cotton did not hurt a coat"—and take the bigger profit. Others who believed in purity in fabric as in everything else charged $18 for the suit.

Two leading makers supplied these suits to us—TWO sources of supply being secured so we would never be obliged to wait for duplicate sizes and to insure a competition that would inspire each manufacturer to keep his end up, each working to get the bigger end of the business. The very popularity and goodness of the cloth used induced the Woolen Combination to boost the price this season. Our two makers frankly told us they could not produce the suit under this stiff advance and advised us to accept the alternative of a "clever cotton mixture that the best stores in the country are using," they said.

We are selling that same suit, made of the same material, all worsted, same splendid style, same careful workmanship, at the same price —$15.00.

Little less profit, but a much bigger business makes it pay. It is but one example of how we insist upon quality in men's clothing, just as well as women's, misses, and children's apparel, and in all merchandise here, despite the famously low pricing.
