

The Funny Man

Prof.—“What are the products of the Sahara Desert?
Frog—“Sand Sir.”

Henry Mc—“Do you see anything funny about my helmet?”

Herb.—“Why yes, your head.”

Gorman—“What do you think of a man who takes his living out of the mouth of the people?”

Campbell—“He must be a blackleg.”

Gorman—“No he is a dentist.”

Judge—You’re rather sharp this morning, Mulligan.”

Chaff—“I should be, after the stropping I got this morning.”

Mallette—“How do you know Chaucer dictated to a stenog?”

Tingley—“Just look at the spelling.”

Prof.—“What is a vacuum?”

Mooney—“I have it in my head, but I can’t think of it just now.”

McInnis—“Say, that line you’re shooting just goes in one ear and out the other.”

Alex.—“Well, what is there to prevent it?”

Pete—“Say what’s the difference between a Seraphim and a Cherubim?”

Murphy—“There was a difference, but it was settled a long time ago.”

Prefect—“Why are you always so late for prayers?”

Hogan—“It’s because I sleep so slowly.”

Tar—“You know dear, I speak as I think.”

She—“Yes, only a little oftener.”

Prof.—“Were you looking at Cameron’s paper?”

Johnson—“Yes sir, I wanted to see if he had mine right.”
