

JOHN NOONAN

It is common knowledge that the next stirring event on this campus will be the election of executive officers to the Students' Union and the Amateur Athletics Association. All that remains is the official proclamation of candidates, most of whom will do so in this paper. I would like to thank the Red and White for giving us the opportunity of expressing ourselves through this medium of communication.

It is my intention to offer myself as a candidate for the Presidency of the St. Dunstan's University Students' Union. During the past year, I have held the position of Vice-President of this same organization, and through this experience of office I feel that I am capable of fulfilling the duties of the President, should you, the Students of St. Dunstan's express your desire to entrust this office to me.

Hoping that my nomination will receive your consideration, I remain,

Yours truly
John Noonan.

JAMES K. GARRITY

Ladies and gentlemen:

The objective of the A.A.A., as stated in the Constitution, is "The encouragement and promotion of athletics among the students of St. Dunstan's University." You will note that the objective states, "... encouragement ... among the students ...". The present A.A.A. has not encouraged, except at the Varsity and Junior Varsity level, the on-campus sports to the point where it promotes the proper college spirit.

Granted, common sense asserts that I, as a Vice-Presidential candidate, cannot have a platform, but if elected I will have a vote, and I WILL USE THIS VOTE to further the convictions which I now present for your approval.

1. Ladies of St. Dunstan's! You are contributing approximately $700.00 to the A.A.A., without having a voice or vote in the distribution of these funds. It is my opinion that a representative position is within your basic rights in so far as you are a major contributing faction. Do you agree?

2. Interest in Intramural and "Buzzer" sports is at a low ebb. I maintain that closer coordination between the A.A.A. executives and their various appointed managers, in advertising these events, would vastly improve this situation.

3. Do you realize that the A.A.A. spent 58% of the Student Union's budget this year? I am not against this, but the Co-eds, Freshmen, Engineers, and until late January of the year, even the Sophomores, had no say as to how the greatest part of their money was spent. This represents over 70% of the student body. I feel this is the major fault with the present A.A.A. Do you think this is right?

If elected, I will use, to the best of my ability, my voice and my vote, to correct these defects. You ask how? ... Equal representation in the A.A.A.

These, I believe, are the major faults of the A.A.A., and These, I believe, are the major I hope, if you agree with my views, that you will remember me on election day.

Sincerely,

James K. Garrity,
Candidate for the Vice-Presidency of the A.A.A.

Bert Rosemay For V.P.

Since Vibert Rosemay arrived at St. Dunstan's campus in September, 1959, he has become one of the most respected men ever to enter our beloved center of learning. He came here with an outstanding record as a debater and organizer; while here he has given us eminent proof of this.

In his freshman year, Vibert became a first-team debater with such men as Bill Kelly and Lorne McGuigan. As a first-year student he was recognized as being, if not the best, at least one of the best debaters on the campus. This year there is no debate as to who is the best debater.

To be a debater of such renown requires certain qualities. First of all there must, of course, be oratorical ability. But this is the most obvious quality. An MIDL debate requires weeks and weeks of hard work and preparation. Therefore, he has industry, a most important requirement for any for a good vice-president. Secondly, a good debater must have a logical and alert mind, logical to prove, alert to pick up mistakes of his opponents. Are these not qualities which are necessary to our next vice-president? Thirdly, tact and skill in the use of words is required by our next vice-president.

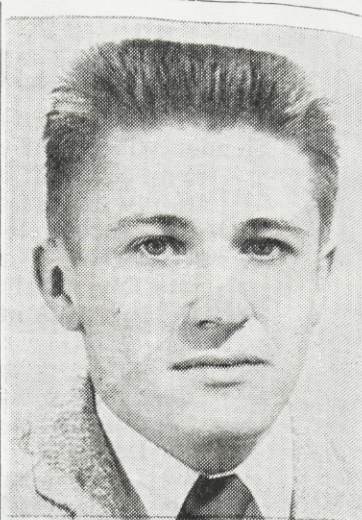

Thus, by his debating ability, Rosemay has displayed three qualities required by any good vice-president. Now we must look at Rosemay the organizer, for ability to organize is probably the most important singular characteristic of the good vice-president.

Vibert has displayed this ability to organize by his role in the Foreign Students society. He is actually the backbone of the organization. Also, he has organized a discussion club on the fourth floor of Main building which meets weekly to discuss various problems. Furthermore, he is the Feature Editor of the RED AND WHITE. In January of this year, he took over the organizing of the front page of our paper. Compare the organization of the front pages of the last three editions with those of the first two, then you will see with your own eyes this great ability to organize even news. How well he can organize men is then very obvious.

But most important of all Rosemay has the proper motive — that of making a significant contribution to St. Dunstan's. His record here substantiates this claim. His platform will be out immediately after Easter. He will make no promises that are impossible to fulfill for he fully realizes St. Dunstan's limitations; nevertheless, he will present honest and sincere resolutions which need immediate attention and which are within the scope of the University.

This, ladies and gentlemen, is your candidate. Surely, you cannot afford to give him anything less than your ardent support. Seek the truth in March, The man in April, And you'll have Rosemay in May.

Campaign Manager.

DAN O'HANLEY

On behalf of Dan O'Hanley's candidacy for the presidency of the Students' Union I would like to outline three most essential qualities required for this office. These are experience, integrity and a willingness to serve others.

In the line of experience, Dan indeed holds an enviable record. Prior to coming to us, Dan was in the noble profession of teaching for two years. Having acquired a flare for public-speaking, Danny became an ardent debater, won two debates and has efficiently held the vice-presidency of our branch of the MIDL in his sophomore and junior years respectively. Furthermore he has been an active member of the choir, glee club and Sodality. Prior to being named Editor-in-Chief of the new format Red and White, Danny served faithfully with the former Red and White magazine. Evidently the first requirement has been filled.

It is needless to say, with all due humility, that Dan's integrity has been one of a true gentleman at all times. Should Dan have perceived any wrong course of action he has stated his views with the intention of rectifying any discrepancy in conduct.

A willingness to serve his confreres has been shown through his efficient and capable tenure of the Editorship of the Red and White which has seemingly revived the literary interest of S.D.U. Students. This quality has been carried over to the student-body meetings of the Students' Union at which he has put forth constructive criticism in view of providing efficient student government.

I trust you will consider these very desirable personal qualities in the practice of your valuable right to vote at the forthcoming Students' Union elections.

Don McMillan

ROBERT QUIGLEY

My Friends:

I am contesting the office of Vice-President of the St. Dunstan's Student Union with a dual purpose in mind. First, to offer better all round student representation and secondly, to afford myself the opportunity of voicing my opinions and having a say in the regulation of student activities. On this latter point, I consider myself sufficiently competent, as, last year I took the chairmanship of the controversial CFCCS organization and helped to put it back on its feet again. I have planned and worked on various activities for the students in my role as CFCCS chairman and as President of the Sophomore class.

As a member of this year's student council, I was in attendance at all meetings and from my talks with the outgoing V.P. I am fully aware of the responsibility and the requirements of this position, consequently, I am fully qualified to take over as Vice-President for '61-'62.

If I am elected to this post, I say, I will do my best:

1. To have the organizations NFCUS, CFCCS, WUSC, etc. to present to the students a stencilled copy of reports on any convention, conference, seminar, or the like, that their delegates may attend; this will make for a more fully informed student body.

2. To have a students coffee shop built on campus where they can go to meet instead of having to go to town. This, I feel, will also enhance the Day and Residents student relationships.

3. To start work on the publication of a yearbook for 1962. This, I feel, is something the campus seriously needs.

The foregoing are things, I believe, should be rectified. I say, also, that I will act on any worthwhile suggestion submitted by anyone and in the sincere interest of the student.

In closing I might warn you not to be influenced by vain oratory, as it alone is not sufficient to accomplish the work required by the office of Vice-President.

Thank you, sir, for the space.
Robert Quigley.

ROGER SOLOMAN

Roger Soloman entered St. Dunstan's four years ago as a high school student and since then, having graduated from the high school and completing his second year of college this spring, has come to know the problems which exist in athletics on all levels on the campus. He has been active in all intramural sports, his ability being widely recognized in both their organization and in the actual playing.

Roger has a good scholastic record and has proved himself responsible, determined and possessive of the vital initiative necessary for the solution of the many problems the AAA faces.

Roger Soloman will strive to obtain equal representation from each class in the AAA. Realizing that the Co-eds form an important group on our Campus, he will do his utmost to see that provisions are made for their organized athletic program of their own, and that the necessary facilities will be available to them. Roger will see to it that not only the University Students' but also the High School Students will have a better and more efficient sports program. He intends to press for the admittance of the High School teams into the regular Intramural League.

For a more efficient and effective organization for '61-'62, vote for Roger Soloman as Vice-President of the AAA.

Remember — Roger for Res-titution
Soloman for Success.
