NEW STUDENTS' GOVT. ELECTED

O'Hanley, McWade Win Close Contests

After weeks of intensive campaigning by prospective candidates for the two top executive positions in the Students Union, the elections held on Friday, April 14, and Monday April 17, resulted in Dan O'Hanley, a native of Monticello, being elected as president, and Bert McWade, of Charlottetown, as vice-president.

The election week started off with a bang following a grand rally, held in the Auditorium on Sunday, April 9, at which the five candidates presented their platforms and manifestos. Seeking office for the presidency were Dan O'Hanley, editor of Red and White, and Jack Noonan, of Summerside, 60-61 vice president, both members of the Junior class.

For the vice-presidency, three enterprising Sophomores presented themselves: Vibert Rosemay, of Georgetown, British Guiana, feature editor of Red and White; Bob Quigley of St. John's, Newfoundland, Sophomore Class president and CFCCS chairman, and Bert McWade of Charlottetown.

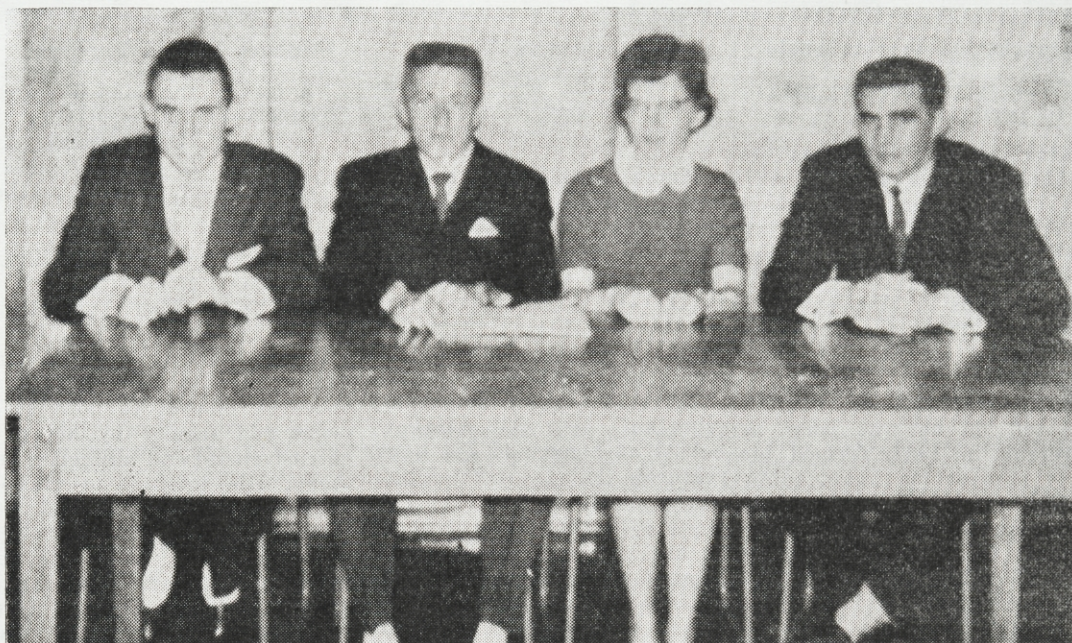

Following the rally in the gym, the candidates intensified their campaigns by introducing P.A. systems, displaying indoor and outdoor posters, and even paying visits to each student individually. The political climax was reached on Wednesday night, when following a grand rally and variety show, organized by Rosemay's supporters, two large demonstrations, to the rhythm of booms and kettles, paraded around the campus, one in support of presidential candidate O'Hanley, the other for candidate Noonan.

With the spirit of politics dancing in their veins, 422 students cast their ballot on election day, April 14. The result ended in a very close election for the presidency, with Dan O'Hanley capturing 222 votes to Jack Noonan's 200. For the vice-presidency, Vibert Rosemay led the field with 192 votes, followed closely by Bert McWade with 172 votes while Bob Quigley received 54.

However, as Rosemay had failed to draw 50 per cent of the votes cast, a two-cornered fight took place between him and McWade on the following Monday. This resulted in McWade's picking up 37 more votes to push his total to 209, while Rosemay lost 7, reducing his score to 185.

In the offices for secretary and treasurer, Fran MacDougall and Gerry Gillis were elected by acclamation respectively. Red and White offers congratulations to the new executive and appeals to the students for their co-operation.

Other Election

Results

In the AAA elections, Jim 'Squeaks' McAulay easily won the presidency, securing 227 votes to Don McMillan's 146. For the vice-presidency, the results were almost the same. Jim Garrity, of Massachusetts, U.S.A., won by a 71 majority over Roger Solomon, who tallied 148 votes. Don MacCormac was elected secretary-treasurer by acclamation.

For the Engineers' Society, Walter "Chuck" McEwan was elected president over Jim Arsenault and Winston Pineau. Other members of the New Engineers' Society executive are Jim Arsenault, vice-president, and Joe Murphy, treasurer. The secretary will be elected at the first Society meeting next year.

SDU To Confer Three Honorary Doctorates

Rt. Rev. G. J. McLellan

St. Dunstan's University will confer honorary doctorates at this year's commencement exercises, May 16, on Mr. Arthur Maloney, Q.C., M.P., of Toronto, and on two alumni, Right Reverend G.J. McLellan, P.A., and Mr. Justice A.E. Arsenault, both of Charlottetown. The baccalaureate sermon will be given by another graduate, Very Reverend John McCarthy, Rector of St. Mary's Basilica, Halifax, N.S.

Mr. Maloney, who will also give the commencement address, is an arts graduate of the University of Toronto. He was admitted to the Bar in 1943, and appointed Queen's Counsel ten years later. Prior to his resignation in 1956, he was national chairman of the Criminal Justice Committee of the Canadian Bar Association. In April 1960 he was appointed president of the newly-formed Canadian Catholic Education Council of Canada.

He first entered the political field in 1957, when he was elected federal member for Toronto-Parkdale. In March 1958, he was re-elected with an even larger majority, and served for some time as parliamentary secretary to the Minister of Labour. Mr. Maloney will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Monsignor McLellan is a graduate of St. Dunstan's in the class of 1899, a former Rector, 1915 to 1923, and for many years a member of the board of governors. He has also been pastor of Tignish and Summerside and Vicar-General of the Diocese of Charof the P.E.I. Legislature, Premier of Prince Edward Island, and a Supreme Court Judge.

Rev. John McCarthy, who will deliver the baccalaureate sermon, is a native of Amherst, N.S., and a '36 graduate of St. Dunstan's. The baccalaureate sermon will be given during Pontifical High Mass at 4:00 p.m. on Sunday, May 14, and the service will be open to the public.

Lecturer Stresses Need Of Humanities

In a series of three lectures at St. Dunstan's University, Dean John F. Leddy, vice-president of University of Saskatchewan, stressed the need of the Humanities in education, and declared that the new age into which the world is now entering will depend to an unusual degree upon educated citizens who understand the social and political implications of the changing development in this scientific age.

The lectures, sponsored by the University Committee on Cultural Activities, were held on April 10, 11, 12, under the chairmanship of: Rev. Dr. F. W.P. Bolger, Ph.D., Rev. James R. Kelly, M.A. and Brendon O'Grady, Ph.D. respectively.

Dr. Leddy used as his general theme, "The role of the Humanities in an age of Science," and discussed this under the topics, "Humanities in Modern Education," "The Humanities and the Individual," and "The Humanities and the New Age." He noted that since Canadian Universities were adding new departments and increasing the number of classes in existing departments thus creating a wider variety of choice, very often, the humanities were de-emphasized, particularly because of the appearance of the Social Sciences.

Dr. Leddy was critical of this approach, and advanced theories and suggestions whereby Colleges and Universities could work for modification in the approach to the sciences, thus linking them more strongly with the humanities.

The large audiences at each of the lectures included Lieutenant-governor F. Walter Hyndman and the Bishop of Charlottetown, Right Reverend Malcolm A. MacEachern.

International Show Staged

In an effort to display some of their local customs to students and other residents of the Province, the members of St. Dunstan's International Students' Organization sponsored a grand variety concert and show in the Gymnasium on Wednesday, April 19. The programme consisted of a variety of talent organized by the different national groups.

First on the programme was British Guiana. Her sole representative Vibert Rosemay combined ingenuity, imagination, and the potential of an Arthur Murray in presenting a calypso song and dance, amply displayed by tourists from the "foreign countries" of Canada and the United States.

Following this, representative from Africa and the West Indies, half a world apart, combined talents to render three African hymns, the sentimental folk song, "Brown Skin Girl," and an amusing calypso dealing with the international problem of "keeping up with the Jones!"

Returning to the North American continent, Alfred Lopez explained some of the aspects and attractions of life in Mexico, translating his speech from Spanish to English as he read it to the audience. The Chinese students amply demonstrated their fine sense of humour in their hilarious presentation of a shadow show, based on a medical operation. This show brought bursts of laughter from the audience and an overwhelming applause.

The last and largest item on the programme was presented by the foreign majority on the campus—the Americans. Their choice of a minstrel show embodied singing and jokes and enabled most of the Americans to participate. Several southern folk songs and the solemn "America the Beautiful" were sung by the chorus, while M.C., Keenan Marr, gave a fine rendition of "Old Man River."

President Calls For Support

The last student body meeting for the year witnessed the retirement of the old executive of the Students' Union and the installation of the new officers. Outgoing president, Dennis Clough, thanked the students for their fine co-operation throughout the past year, and felt that any success which was achieved during his presidency was really the work of the students themselves. Other outgoing members were Jack Noonan, vice-president, and Vic Scott, secretary-treasurer.

Incoming president, Dan O'Hanley, thanked the students for their support and confidence in electing him to that office. He intimated his intentions to orientate the students' activities and called on all to give him their whole-hearted support during the coming year.

As the meeting did not consist of a quorum, the other items on the agenda were not discussed.
