

ed the government's policy of fostering scientific research in the North west Territories and instituting a passenger and mail airship service between Prince Edward Island and the mainland. They were opposed by the Hons. B. Croken, P. Sullivan and R. Malone. The house adjourned after a dull session.

Professor of Biology

The Faculty of St. Dunstan's University secured the services of Mr. Lorne Howatt, of Charlottetown, to teach the biology course that was opened here at the beginning of the second term. We wish Mr. Howatt every success with his class.

Red and White extends its deepest sympathy to Reginald McKinnon on the death of his father, to Joseph Campbell on the death of his step-sister, to John Monaghan on the death of his sister and to Dionel Buote on the death of his brother.

On April 6 we had a pleasant visit from Sir Charles Dalton donor of Dalton Hall. Sir Charles has shown a keen interest in St. Dunstan's and the students are always glad to welcome him and to profit by his many experiences and wise counsels. We hope that the demands upon Sir Charles' time will soon permit him to pay us another visit.

Alumni

Rev. Finlay Mullaly, B. A., '18 was ordained to the priesthood by His Lordship Bishop O'Leary in St. Dunstan's Cathedral, Charlottetown on Feb. 8th.

Since the last issue of the Red and White we have learned of the death of Dr. A. J. Donnelly in Boston, Mass. Doctor Donnelly was a native of Sturgeon, P. E. I. and was graduated from St. Dunstan's with a degree of B. A. in '96. R. I. P.

Our Rev. Rector attended the ordination of his brother Rev. Pius McLellan, S. J. and Rev. Father Bradley
