

Everyone's getting into the act. by Chris Lowery

Snow sculptures, floats, contests, and hops — everyone's getting into the act. Saint Dunstan's is making history. This year, we are planning to have the first Winter Carnival — we hope it will be the first of many. Perhaps the most important part of our Winter Carnival is you, the students of St. Dunstan's. If you were not here, we would not have one; if you do not take part, we can not have one. So far, the spirit and participation has been great. As with anything done for the first time, red tape and administration involves a lot of time for many people. Everyone is doing his part; everyone is working together; for the first time in a long while there is 100% backing in a student project.

The senior class has undertaken the task of organizing the sporting activities. So, if you see one of our prominent seniors running around with a greased pig under his arm, he ain't crazy, he just likes to run around with a greased pig under his arm. We also expect to see many unshaven chins and cheeks for awhile. If we overlook the facts that the girls might look on with jealousy and our beloved "sister in the kitchen" will serve us no food, it should provide fun and a wide area for competition and originality.

The juniors also have their job cut out for them. As yet, they haven't used the personal approach — running into your room at three in the morning to announce with glad tidings that there is a Winter Carnival "a-plannin' ". Posters must be made, programs printed, and, in general, "hanging a lantern aloft in the belfry arch" so all can plan for a fabulous three days.

The sophomores will keep everything under control. Bayonets, billy-clubs, and body bouncers will be their contribution at the scene. The C.P. arm badges will be worn by the more hefty members within their ranks — just in case, mind you, any of us becomes inebriated with uncontrollable joy.

Ever say that you didn't have $4.00 right at the moment? This doesn't seem to impress the Freshmen class. Last night, listening to six of them under my window shouting, "Yankee go home!" for about two hours, I had to pawn an old clock, three bars of Dial soap, and a watch fob with the inscription "Ancient Order of Hibernians" in order to scrape together four bucks for a carnival pass. Lots of luck when they see you coming.

In general, a feeling of success is in the air. If we can all stay as confident as this for the next few weeks, we will have one of the most talked about carnivals in the Maritimes. No reason why we can't! You know, its success depends only on us — if we make it, we're the ones that are going to have the good time. Then we can all sit back and wait for mid-term examinations.

QUEEN

FOR A

CARNIVAL

Marcia Arsenault

Mary
Donovan

Elizabeth
MacKenzie

Cathy
Murphy

Martha
McTiernas

Eileen
Grant

Mnemosyne needs you

Copies of Mnemosyne are still available. If you have not yet obtained your copy — why wait for spring?

You have read yours from cover to cover? You will be glad to know there are enough copies remaining to give to interested friends. See John Roy, Elaine Green, or any other interested Year book staff member today.

Coming Carnival Celebrations

Wednesday, January 30:

- 7:00 P.M. — Torchlight Parade.
- 9:00 P.M. — Official Opening.
- 10:00 P.M. — Dance and Sleigh Ride.

Thursday, January 31:

- 10:00 A.M. — Mass Celebrating S.D.U. Day.
- 11:00 A.M. — Banquet Celebrating S.D.U. Day.
- 2:30 P.M. — Varsity Basketball game.
- 9:00 P.M. — Variety Concert.

Friday, February 1:

- 11:00 A.M. — Carnival Buzzer Championship.
- 1:30 P.M. — International Hockey Championship.
- 4:00 P.M. — Interclass Championship.
- 8:30 P.M. — College Concert featuring "Journeymen".

Saturday, February 2:

- 10:00 A.M. — Carnival Float Parade.
- 1:30 P.M. — Coeds vs. Nurses' basketball.
- 2:15 P.M. — Canada vs. U.S. Snow Football.
- 3:00 P.M. — Coed-Day vs. Resident — Hockey.
- 6:00 P.M. — Intercollegiate Hockey. Dal vs. S.D.U.
- 9:00 P.M. — Carnival Ball.

WANTED!

Hi. If any one were to approach you and say that he were looking for a toboggan don't step back and look at him as though he should also be looking for his marbles. We need'em. Of course, the individual who approaches may be more in need of marbles than toboggans — but first things first.

We're planning a Winter Carnival. Oh! Haven't you heard? Well, we are, and plans in the making include a Toboggan Party. Now we can't have one of those parties without toboggans — we need snow too — Ha, Ha! (If you laugh at that you're an idiot!) Won't you please help? See Tom Flanagan if you have one to lend. If you don't have one maybe you'll be contacted for snow. There's plenty of people around here with lots of that.

This first S.D.U. Winter Carnival brings to the forefront six charming, and pretty candidates for the title of Carnival Queen. Marcia Arsenault, a Senior Science student from Summerside, P.E.I., will represent her class in the contest. Marcia is president of the Sigma Delta Sorority, and a top-notch bowler. She plans to continue work in the field of Science after graduation.

Elizabeth MacKenzie is the choice of the Charlottetown School of Nursing. A second year nurse from Charlottetown, P.E.I., "Libby" enjoys music and horseback riding.

From St. John, N.B., comes the Sophomore candidate, Science student Mary Donovan. Mary, secretary of her class this year, has not made definite plans for the future. Her special interests are interior decorating, drama, and skating.

Eileen Grant, another Charlottetown resident, is the candidate of the Junior class. An Arts student, Eileen plans to teach following graduation. For several years she has sparked productions of the S.D.U. Glee Club with her musical ability.

The Freshmen are standing behind their choice, Martha McTiernas from Minto, New Brunswick. An Arts student, Martha is working for her Bachelor's degree, and may continue her studies in medicine. Her interests are music and spectator hockey.

Cathy Murphy, Norboro, P.E.I., is in her first year of Nurses Training at the Charlottetown Hospital. As an S.D.U. Sophomore last year, Cathy was chosen Mardi Gras Queen, and is now the engineer's candidate for Carnival Queen.