

NONSENSE AVENUE

There is a rumor that once upon a time the Red and White had a humor section that was very humorous. Well that was once upon a time—

Bernatchez: "Your car is at the door Father."

Father Kelly: "Is that what I hear knocking?"

Louie: "What happened to John R?"

Eric: "Ian rubbed his back with rubbing alcohol and he broke his neck trying to lick it off."

Sophomore: "Come on now, take a bath and I'll get you a date."

Freshman: "And what if you don't get me a date."

L. MacCormac: "I think I'll have to fall back on Souris for my prom date."

Allison: "It's not that bad is it."

A. J. MacAdam is eternally grateful to Gerry Tingley for his great contribution to Canadian Football. His contribution is as follows: He has devised a plan for curving a football. It seems that all the player has to do is pack some snow (or mud) on one side of the football and then he can curve it in any direction he so desires. Gerry reports that he used it successfully against numerous teams in the Campbellton football league.

Questions we wish we could answer:

Does Faber MacDonald really dye his hair?

Is it true that Dick Power is a Communist?

Is it true that Charles Hickey won the Charles Atlas award for 1958?

Does Father MacLellan really smoke cigars?

Does Maggie Hagen really want to put Ron Bolger out of business?

Is there any truth in the rumor that Father Pineau wants to become Rector?

Is it true that Dick Flemming can't read?
Does Patsy MacNeill really use a Kane?
Does Louie Doucette really wear Gemma's overshoes?
Is Jimmie Smith really "gone"?
Does "Doley" Murphy really love a certain nurse?"
Is it true that Olga really wears Police Boots? (Ask Ian).
Do the Girls really hate Tony Spenceley?

Pete McGonnell was driving his girl through Jasper Park one night, and as they passed a popcorn stand she said, "Does that popcorn ever smell good."

"Wait a minute," said Pete generously, "I'll drive closer so you can get a better whiff of it."

Father Murnaghan: (Looking at Mike O'Brien rooting through a garbage container.) "Don't you know that this is a study hour."

O'Brien: "Yes, Father, but I can't get down to study unless I have a cigarette."

MacIntyre: "I dreamt last night that I invented a new breakfast food."

Gillis: "Well what happened."

MacIntyre: "This morning I could only find one shoe."

Bob Doyle: "Everytime I kiss you it makes me a better man."

Miss Bolger: "Don't try to get to heaven in one night."

The doctor was examining Pete Bushey for entrance to the C.O.T.C.

Doctor: "Say ah"

Pete: "AH."

Doctor: "Now breathe deeply."

Pete: "NOW BREATHE DEEPLY."

Dave Walker smokes impromptu cigarettes; he picks them up as he goes along.

While Father Arsenault was arranging material in the reading room for an Art display, Bill Kelly walked up to him and said, "And this, I suppose, is one of those hideous caricatures that you call modern art."

"No," replied Fr. Arsenault, "that's a mirror."

Jackie Cummisky: "I wonder if Larry Hickey really loves me."

Marg. Hagen: "Of course he does, why should you be an exception."

Father MacGuigan: (Pointing to a cigarette butt on Gym floor) "Ahemmmml Noonan is that yours."

Brian: (Pleasantly) "Not at all, Father, you saw it first."

Father MacLellan was lecturing to Linegar who likes to sleep late: "When I was your age I got up every morning at six, walked ten miles with my dog, and thought nothing of it."

"Well Father," yawned Bob, "I don't think much of it either."

Referee of basketball game: "Double foul on Gil Collins for holding."

Anna (from among spectators): "Oh, isn't that just like Gil."

Rumor has it that Larry Hickey had trouble sleeping through World War I in History class.

Father MacLellan: "And where have you been for the past week."

Daly: "Stop me if you have heard this one."

Girlfriend's Landlady: "It's two o'clock. Do you think you can stay here all night?"

Gillis: "I'll have to phone my Prefect first."

News Headlines of the Past Year:

Pat Poirier wins Highjump
Kelly-Noonan Friendship ruined by Dowling
Patee-Trainor Nuptials
Dick Power Swears
Cheerleaders Make Debut
Art O'Shea Misses Chapel
Bill Noonan Kisses Girl
Fearon Takes Plunge
Whalen and MacIntyre Give Up the Ghost
Dave Walker Buys Cigarettes
Mr. Campbell Finds Valuable "Ruby"
Co-eds Think
Rouleau Talks
Hache Scores Goal

Beggar: "Any old rags, and old . . ."

Mullally: "I'm a College student."

Beggar: "Any old bottles."

Tingley: "Please send these shoes out when they are finished."

Shoe Doctor: "Will you pay the freight."

MacKinnon: "Lets skip Phil. class today."

Linegar: "Can't, I need the sleep."

Barlowe: "If you were skipping and met the Prefect what steps would you take."

F. Gillis: "Long fast ones."

Its seems that the Co-eds are more interested in getting their MRS than any other letters.

In closing it is only fitting that we close.