SOFTBALL TO GET UNDER WAY

The softball season will be under way as soon as the football field has dried out satisfactorily. This year Bill Noonan will keep things under control as he has been given full charge of the league by the A.A.A.

Each class will have one team in the league and the captains of the respective teams will choose from those who try out. The Freshmen captain is Gene Kinch, the sophomore — Paul Foster, Junior-Peddle and the Senior captain is John Hughes. Gerry Coady will captain the engineers.

The games will be held each day, weather permitting from 12:30 - 1:20 and 4:00 - 5:15. The Sunday games will be held from 12:00-1:00 and 3:30-4:30. Each team will play the other one unless there is sufficient time to play more. Anyone desiring to use the softball equipment when it is not being used by the teams may do so by seeing Bill Noonan. Newcomers should watch out for some fine pitching from John Hughes of the Seniors and Mike O'Brien of the Juniors.

LOOK! THE CO-EDS MADE THE SPORT PAGE

Yes, the co-eds have made the sport page for the first time in quite a while. The co-eds to whom we refer are the four girls who composed the team which made the semi-finals of the bowling league, namely, Marcia Arsenault, Elaine Green, "Sudsie" Sutherland and "Camay" Cameron.

At a disadvantage, we all must admit, these girls pushed aside the other male teams to gain the much desired position. The girls claim now that if they had played either the Sophomores or the Misfits, they would have gained a spot in the finals as indicated by the totals.

Actually, the only way in which the co-eds can overcome this disadvantage in the bowling league would be to operate the teams on a mixed basis. The only problem here is that it seems senseless to drop a male bowler with a high average from the team for a co-ed with a much smaller over-all standing. However, this must be done if the co-eds are to get any use out of one of the sports in which they can actively participate. Congratulations girls.

YOU CAN'T SAY YOU HAVEN'T GOT A RACQUET
For those interested in tennis, the A.A.A. has just purchased some tennis racquets and balls. Anyone desiring to use this equipment may get it from Al Curran in room 2-15 Memorial.

Varsity Sports To Leave The Campus

Let's picture what would happen if the Varsity Sports were relinquished from campus as some one has facetiously recommended. Wouldn't it be great to see Jim Bentham out playing intramural football against Billy Sherry, and Jim Garrity tackling Lee Gillis, or maybe Vance Griffin peeled from the ground after he has been uncovered from a pile-up of Desroches, Davis, and Lane. Let's face it, Varsity sports are here to stay so let us stop thinking negatively. Doesn't it seem much more worth while to spend the money on hockey, basketball, etc. than to put it towards a rehabilitation center for intra-mural casualties.

Some Action Needed
It is time that the intramural football league be banned from the campus. It is pure insanity to go any further playing this game without the proper equipment. How about touch? Some might say that is merely a sissy's game. Fine, then let the strong men turn out for the first team.

It is evident that if the equipment was available most injuries would disappear. Hockey is played on the intramural and buzzer levels and few people are carried to the local hospitals. Let's see some action from the A.A.A. on this.

JUNIOR INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONS

The Juniors won a 'nip and tuck' series over the Seniors, winning the final game easily 7-4.

BOWLING TROPHY WINNERS

From l-r: Marcia Arsenault; Single, & High Triple, Thelma Best Co-ed Bowler, Norm Amir-Arsenault; Most Improved Bowler; Highest Average, High Bowler.

Duck Pin Chatter

(By G. Saulnier)

As the S.D.U. bowling league comes to an end within a week, the spotlight is, at present, aimed at the Senior and Sophomore teams who will vie in a six-game battle for the S.D.U. bowling championship.

The regular bowling season startled all bowling fans as history was made by the Co-eds. The Co-ed team, guided by the determined and dependable leadership of Marcia Arsenault, and supported by the consistent effort of Elaine Green, Noreen Cameron and Marilyn Sutherland, upstaged the traditional pattern of male bowlers exclusively monopolizing the higher echelon in bowling by capturing third spot in league performance.

A six-game final series, beginning April 14th, and finishing April 16th, will bring to a fitting climax the 1961-62 bowling season.

Seniors Vie Against Sophomores
Seniors have maintained a general prestige in bowling circles throughout the year, however, Seniors have been known to slump, as in other inter-class sports, and the Sophomores form enthusiastic and determined competition in their own right, again to challenge the notion of the superiority of the Seniors.

By the time this issue of the Red and White has reached you, I suspect that the finals will have been terminated, however, the results of these games will be made available in the last issue.

Following are the results of the semi-finals:

	Total Pinfall
Seniors	2846
Co-eds (6)	2551
Sophomores	2528
Misfits	2430

Juniors Cop Buzzer Crown

The Juniors took the best of a five game series from the Seniors by an overwhelming 7-1 fifth game win. The Seniors won the first game 4-3 while the Juniors captured the second 6-3. The third game ended in a 3-3 tie after a long argument over the time which was being kept by three people. The Juniors then went on to take the series by two more wins. The fourth game was the most exciting as it went into two overtimes and a "sudden death" period.

Big gun for the Juniors was Harry Callaghan, who scored a hat-trick in the final game. Jim Bentham, who brought the blades out of retirement, played a great series and also got a hat-trick. Don McCormick centered for the Bentham - Callaghan line and was a continuous threat. The second line was made up of Alvin Curley, Hilary Gallant and "Rocket" Jim Pelrine. Forward Levis Coriveau alternated for the two lines as center.

Rushing defenseman "Doddy" McIntyre and hard-hitting Clem Gallant kept many a puck from smashing by goalie Paul Gelin. Bill Crispo, George Parent and Barry Costello also provided the team with depth as defensemen.

The Senior team, which won the league coming away and beat out the Sophomores in the semi-finals, had their two forward lines stacked fairly even. The first line consisted of Bruce Hickey and Norm Amirault with "Flying" Fisher centering. Gerry Giddings centered for Fogarty, Manager of the wheel run league, and Gene Quinn of the second line.

Back on defense, Gerry "Hard" Sherry and "Bronco" Dolan alternated with "Chief" Gallant and Des Duffy. Don MacMillan added the extra depth to the sharp defense. "Squeeks" MacAuley was the Senior goalie.

never to reach their prime. Because of this condition the purpose of the J. V.'s as a farm team for the Varsity is being defeated. There have been only three players in the last few years to advance from J. V. Varsity and this year the first team was composed entirely of Americans who have never played J. V. ball. Surely Canadian athletes are not inferior to these; they simply lack the opportunities to develop their natural abilities.

The J. V.'s hope that in the near future they will be able to compete with the J. V. teams of other colleges, that they will have more than three practices per year, and that Canadians will be able to compete in Varsity Basketball.
