

The Funny Man

Remember studes, that if you see
Your name among the woes and joys,
Don't lay the blame in whole on me,
But say it was some other boys.

Huck: "Say, Dap, why do you keep all the windows in the room closed?"

Dap: "Well, you see Huck, I'd hate to lose my roommate."

Ram: "Does your dog chase cows?"

Bona: "No, he's a bull-dog."

Falstaff: "I guess I'll get a hair-cut this afternoon."

Red: "Say bo, you don't need a hair-cut, you need a violin."

Gladdie: "Do you ever go riding bareback?"

Burns: "No, I always wear a shirt."

MacKinnon: "Correct this sentence, 'I love the girl'"

O'Connor: "That sentence looks all right to me."

MacKinnon: "I think there should be a dash after the girl."

Joe: "I'm surprised you let Art kiss you."

Jean: "Why, isn't he healthy?"

Jim: "Why did you send that parcel back to Ronnie?"

Skinny: "Because I ordered salmon and he sent me
the parcel marked C.O.D."

Aiden: "You used to say I was all the world to you...."

Dot: "Yes, but I learned my geography since that."

An Early Start

Our young Black Crow received a note,
And to his "Gen" next day he wrote;
Each day since then from her he heard,
Oh isn't he a lucky bird?

Nurse (going off duty): "Is there anything you wish sir?"

Hessian: "Yes, kiss me good-night."

Nurse: "I'll send in the orderly—he does all the dirty work."

Scotty and Joe: "Are you sure this alarm-clock works?"

Prefect of Discipline: "Well I didn't use it much, but if it doesn't go off, just touch the little hammer on the alarm and it will ring all right."

Jungle (in poetical mood): "When I look out this window and listen, I can hear the noise of every little insect."

Funny Man: "Yeah?"

Jungle: "But that's not noise, that's harmony."

Hereupon Funny Man picked up the clothes-brush and Jungle's poetical thoughts were finished for that night.

J. O'C.: "So you decided not to buy that new car you were talking about?"

R. A. M.: "Yeah, somebody else held the lucky ticket."

Croken (after exam): "Did it take you long to think out that question, Fred?"

Cass: "No, I got it right off the bat."

Croken: "Oh yes, I saw you sitting behind MacPhee."

We Wonder

Where Phil got the wrist-watch?

Who is called the Midnight Terror?

If Judas will hang himself?

How Freddie survived the trip over on the Hochelaga?

When Dapper will have another night-mare?

What Lazarus thought of the other world?

Why Kelleher left the Monk?

How old Rooney is?

Ram to John A.: "You didn't have your girl out last night did you?"

John A.: "How do you know?"

Ram: "'Cause I had her out myself."

Red to Mac: "So you were at the High Tea? Did you win anything playing Bingo?"

Mac: "Oh yes, I won a base-ball."

Red: "Fine, where is it?"

Mac: "Oh I gave it to a kid in town."

Red: "Say, brother, you'll have to take the Mac out of MacMillan before I'll believe that."

Star of the West

Our foot-ball star is plucky,
On the gridiron he shows fire.
But we think our Ossie lucky
When to dames he does aspire.
'Tis really hard to tell you
At which he shines the best,
At rushing the old foot-ball thru'
Or Ethel, Ike and all the rest.

Unconscious (referring to studies): "Make hay while the sun shines."

Donald: "Who the heck wants to make hay?"

Paul Gallant to Professor in Religion: "Please Father, was Cain married?"

Professor: "I don't think so Mr. Gallant, why the question?"

Paul: "Well, it says here in the book that Cain was a husbandman."

Greard: "What's the use of going to college?"

Chris: "None—but what's the use of not going there?"

Can You Imagine?

Stork late for dinner?

Doc Shea at Government House?

Joe Ready keeping the two minutes silence?

Dumais awake in church?

McIver striking the right note for the choir director?

Keough kicking a field goal?

The Drake all wet?

Burns scoring a touchdown?

Unconscious a prefect?

Dentist: "Would you please open your mouth a little wider, sir?"

Vulture: "Sure, if you move the ceiling up a few feet."

Rip: "I asked you for a loan of twenty; this is only ten."

Ronnie: "I know it is, but that's the fairest way—you lose ten and I lose ten."

Professor in Chemistry to "Porky" (who was deeply interest in the work of the Alcoholic Lamp): "Mr. Smith, if you don't get away from that lamp I'll roast you."

Song Hits of 1930

Betty Co-Ed—Words by Miss Pictou High, music by John Kelly.

The Pal That I Loved Stole The Gal That I loved—Words by Dap, music by Skinny.

They All Play Miniture Golf—Words by A. Murray, music by P. Doyle.

The Mug Song—Words by Bull-Dog, music by Mug-sie.

Little or Nothing—Words by the Football Team, music by the Coach.

Hard to Get Gertie—Words and music by Hessian.

Bonnie, Bonnie Jean—Words and music by Art. MacGuigan.

The Long and the Short of it—Words by Dan. MacIntyre, music by E. Doucette.

Teacher (to boy sitting idly in school during Penmanship: "Alec, why are you not writing?"

Alec: "I ain't got no pen "

Teacher: "Where's your grammar?"

Alec: "She's dead."

"What's the score Jim?" she (Alice) asked arriving very late at the game.

Jim: "Nothing to nothing."

Alice: "Oh, goody!" she exclaimed "We haven't missed a thing."

Elmer: "You are the sunshine of my life. Your smile falls like lightning into my soul. With you by my side I would defy all the storms of life."

Angie: "Is that a proposal or a weather report?"

Among the Authors

"Banking" (an article)—by G. MacCormac.

"The Chant of the Jungle"—by F. McCarthy.

"The King of Bizz Land"—by D. McDonald.

"Resurrexit Sicut Dixit"—by Lazarus Lewis.

"The Last Belle"—by H. Croken.

"No Tickee, No Shirtee"—by K. MacMillan.

"Broken Dreams"—by F. Cass.

"That young man stayed very late again Margaret."

"Yes, papa, I was showing him my picture post-cards"

"Well the next time he wants to stay late, show him some of my electric light bills."

Ormond: "Are you going to marry the girl of your choice?"

Elmer: "No, it's her choice."

His Move

They were in a very dark corner of the hall.

Rip: "Give me a kiss please?"

No answer

Rip: "Please give me a kiss."

Still no answer.

Rip (exasperated): "Are you deaf?"

Marie: "No. Are you asleep?"

