

SPEAKING ON SPORT

By PAUL D. FOSTER

With the thawing of the ice in the rink the sporting season on campus has come to a close. Skates are starting to rust, basketballs are losing air. The football equipment is gathering more dust and the field is sponging up the spring snow. National Hockey League players are resting before taking on their summer jobs, trotting enthusiasts are speculating on horses and baseball fans on the league leaders. Anglers are on their way to their favorite streams and the campus will soon witness arms being loosened up by hot games of catch. With these activities one suddenly realizes that the year is over and begins looking both ways to see where it went. We at St. Dunstan's remember Tingley's slap shot, the High School's fabulous hockey team, Francoeur sinking the winning basket, Garrity's blocking, Ellis' runs and Bert McWade's last stand. Excitement, frustration, rallies and cold feet; these are the things we remember. For St. Dunstan's it was a good year Sport-wise with a better one in store.

Frank Mahovlich will be the guest speaker at a Dinner sponsored by the St. Dunstan's Athletic Booster Club on May 7, at the Charlottetown Hotel. The purpose of this dinner is to raise funds so that those fulfilling the necessary academic and athletic qualifications may be assisted financially. A group of local men with the betterment of Varsity sports in mind have rallied to support the players in this way. Hoping that the dinner is a complete success, a word of thanks is expressed to these men who are continually doing so much for the college.

Since this is the last edition, I wish to extend congratulations and thanks to Vibert Rosemay, Editor of RED AND WHITE. In his capacity as Editor he has raised the status of the paper and has greatly increased its development. Working against all sorts of pressures he has co-operated with his staff to the fullest extent and has given his undivided attention to RED AND WHITE on every level. If the next Editor follows the example set by this man we will have the top newspaper in Canadian colleges.

The sports page wishes to commend the outgoing executive committee of the A.A.A. President Jim Bentham, along with vice-president James Garrity and treasurer Gene Kinch, gave us one of the best working committees yet. Next year's executive will consist of Jim Garrity, president; Gene Kinch, vice-president; and Bill Phalen, treasurer. With Jim Garrity at the helm we can be sure of another successful executive for the A.A.A.

Dave O'Brien would like to see his name in RED AND WHITE. Here it is DAVE O'BRIEN!

BUZZER CHAMPS

The play-offs began on March 17 with all teams looking for those three precious games to take them into the finals. In keenly contested games Freshmen (A) knocked out Freshmen (B) in three straight games; the Seniors trounced their opponents, the Engineers, in four straight games.

The finals on March 27 found the Seniors facing the Freshman (A) team. With little trouble the Seniors took the first three games; they were ably assisted by the steady goal-tending of Mike "Sulky" O'Brien. The scores of these games were: 8-4, 5-3, and 7-2. The stars of the staunch Senior team were Harry Callaghan, Bruce Hickey and Jim Bentham. They paced the Seniors' attack scoring fifteen of the twenty goals. R. Callaghan and E. J. Hollohan did most of the scoring for the Freshmen (A).

On the whole the games were keenly contested and ably refereed. The big difference between the two teams in the finals was that the Seniors gave a team effort, while the Freshman played as individualists.

An exhibition game was played on Tuesday, April 9, between the Seniors (College Buzzer Champs) and "Hoss" Chandler's Inter-Class

High School Champs. The Seniors took the game with an easy 6-1 victory. Mike "Sulky" O'Brien played another steady game in the nets, while Harry Callaghan paced the Senior's attack with four goals and two assists. Donnie "Hoss" Chandler got the lone High School goal on a neat, solo effort.

Morris McIntyre and Barry Costello played a full sixty minutes of solid, rough hockey on the Senior defense.

The Buzzer Hockey League was well looked after this year, and I want to congratulate Morris McIntyre for his fine job.
