The Faculty of St. Dunstan's University secured the services of Mr. Lorne Howatt, of Charlottetown, to teach the biology course that was opened here at the beginning of the second term. We wish Mr. Howatt every success with his class.

Red and White extends its deepest sympathy to Reginald McKinnon on the death of his father, to Joseph Campbell on the death of his step-sister, to John Monaghan on the death of his sister and to Dionel Buote on the death of his brother.

On April 6 we had a pleasant visit from Sir Charles Dalton donor of Dalton Hall. Sir Charles has shown a keen interest in St. Dunstan's and the students are always glad to welcome him and to profit by his many experiences and wise counsels. We hope that the demands upon Sir Charles' time will soon permit him to pay us another visit.

On Jan. 27, a meeting was held in Charlottetown for the purpose of forming a City League. Delegates representing four teams were present viz. Beavers, Calathumpians, Y. M. C. A. and S. D. U. A schedule of twelve games was drawn up but it as was so late in the season this was finally cut down to six. Even then the League was only half finished, whether through slackness on the part of the league officials or their inability to arrange dates with the rink management, we do not know.
