STAFF RED AND WHITE, 1909-1910.

The whole of last year's Staff of Red and White—to whom the success of our College Magazine was due in its initial year—is this year absent from the College. We miss the enthusiastic energy of Stephen and the inimitable geniality of Cavanagh in the editorial sanctum, but we are consoled by the knowledge that they and the others are "about their Father's business" and will continue to make the world better and brighter by their being in it. We wish them all an overflowing measure of success and ask them to look lightly on the poor efforts of their successors. We print below their names with their present whereabouts:—

S. J. McDonald, '05, Grand Seminary Quebec.

H. H. Cavanagh, B.A., '10, Kansas City, Mo.

C. R. Smith, B.A., '10, St. Bernard's Seminary, Rochester, N. Y.

J. E. Michaud, B.A., '10, Dalhousie Law School, Halifax.

William Bowlen, House of Philosophy, Quebec.

Of last year's graduates Owen Kiggins, B.A., J. E. Lachance and L. A. Herrel are studying for the priesthood at the Grand Seminary, Quebec.

J. A. Murphy, B.A., '10, has joined the staff of Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown.

Gerald McCarthy, B.A., '10, is teaching at Emerald.

J. W. McDonald, '10, is at present in charge of a school at Wapella, Sask. We hope to see Jos. W. yet dealing with affairs of state.

Paul Gagon, B.A., '07, Honore Grenier, B.A., '07, and Alexandre Darveau, B.L., '07, last June graduated in law from Laval University, Quebec. These three of our alumni graduated with honors, Paul leading his class and capturing the much coveted award. Congratulations.

We had a pleasant visit from Dan Aeneas McIntyre a few weeks ago. Dan, who by the way, not long ago joined the order of benedicts, is always a welcome visitor at St. Dunstan's.

George M. Trainor is completing his course at the University of Ottawa.

William Meahan, '12, is taking a course in medicine at Queen's University, Kingston.

A. D. McInnis, B.A., '04, who has been sometime in California, recently returned to his home at Earnscliffe, P. E. I.

R. A. D. Gillis, B.A., Rhodes scholar, '07, is completing his medical course at McGill University, Montreal.

We regret to learn of the death of Dr. James A. McDonald, one of our alumni, which took place recently at his home in Boston. Those who knew Dr. McDonald in St. Dunstan's will learn of this event with sincere regret. To his bereaved widow and family Red and White extends heartfelt sympathy.

We also extend our sympathy to Gregory Harquail of Dalhousie, N. B., whose father died suddenly in the early part of the summer.
