

SPEAKING ON SPORTS

By PAUL D. FOSTER
NEW ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

For those who do not know, Mr. A. J. MacAdam is the Athletic Director at the University. In this capacity, Mr. MacAdam will assist anyone with any questions or problems that might occur in the realm of sporting activities on campus. A. J. maintains an office in the Alumni Gymnasium and is available to those desiring his services from ten in the morning to five at night.

CO-EDS GETTING READY

The co-eds will be out in full force during the Winter Carnival and will be in the Sport Spot-Light both on the court and on the ice. On the court we can look for a strong line of Sutherland, M. Arsenault, Elaine Green, B. J. Callaghan and R. McCormick.

Cutting up the ice will be a squad representing the day-students and the residents. As in varsity sports some of the more outstanding women athletes will be playing both basketball and hockey. The competitors for the girls' basketball team will be a strong team of Nurses, while the hockey games will see the day-students playing the residents. Co-ed basketball coach is Len Sirois and resident hockey coach is Roger Soleman.

BOSTON APPRECIATES ISLAND'S FORBES KENNEDY

Forbes Kennedy of Charlottetown is holding his own in the N.H.L. and is a definite asset to Boston. Forbes, not noted for his scoring ability, makes up for it in his aggressiveness. Talking to Milt Schmidt, the Sport's Page editor learned that Forbes has strengthened the morale of the last place Bruins. He is considered a good investment by Schmidt and will be seeing continued action with the club. In the same interview Forbes disclosed that he is being treated much better than he ever was in Detroit and that Boston has given the opportunity he has long awaited. Forbes is presently living with Jerry Topasini, Ed Johnson and Spencer in Revere, Mass. and claims that he feels right at home in Boston as he is surrounded by Maritimers in the Greater Boston area.

FREE OF CHARGE

St. Dunstan's students will be admitted to all athletic activities on campus free of charge by presentation of their student identification cards. If these cards are not presented at the gates of such events the student will be required to pay the admission price. The A.A.A. desires full co-operation in this matter.

GOOD YEAR — "63"

Congratulations to "Butch" Callaghan and Joe Sassi are extended from the Sport's Page on outstanding performances in the first home games of the season. Callaghan kept the Saints in the game all the way with his head-ups net minding and Joe Sassi hit consistently for a big 22 points on the court. Both Callaghan and Sassi are due for a good year and this looks like the one they have been waiting for. Collectively both teams played well over the home game week-end.

"The high and mighty" co-eds

Beauty in the female we desire, intelligence we permit but superiority in athletics... well this does prove somewhat embarrassing to the masculine ego. What I am trying to ease out is the ironical phenomenon occurring in the S.D.U. bowling league. For the first time in its history the Co-eds are on top but what is even more incredible, they seem to be staying there. With Marcia Arsenault coming up to form, Elaine Green's steady bowling and Noreen Cameron's upsurge the females are literally bowling over their male opponents with deadly accuracy.

A victim to this slaughter was the once powerful Sophomore team. Such a devastating defeat did the Co-eds hand this formerly top rated team that the Sophomores feel from second to sixth position. Much reliance will be upon Len Sirois and Bill Barker to pull the Sophomores out of their slump.

The main contenders for the lead is the Engineer team which has proven to be almost as big as a surprise as the Co-eds. Irwin Rayner, Foch McNally and Ron MacDonald form the nucleus of this team which will be hard to crush. With the addition of Joe Caswell, an exceptional bowler, the Engineers hope to dethrone the high and mighty. Engineers versus Co-eds will be the clash of the immediate future -- perhaps the most significant of the year.

The Seniors and Juniors are enduring great difficulty in maintaining challenging teams. Losses due to illness have occurred on both teams. Fortunately for the Seniors, Len Ellis and Cyril Power are rapidly rising to form. Jim Blinkhorn is doing more than his share to prevent the Junior slump. The horizon is brightening however in the expectations of Jim Callaghan and Paul Foster.

The Freshmen are still throwing their weight around. Bob O'Rourke is receiving excellent help from team-mates Joe Wassil, Vic Jeske, George Berrigan and Owen Macdonald.

The resident Co-ed team seem to have no intention of dominating their male opponents (in bowling anyway). The perseverance of Muriel St. John and the devotion of Thelma Arsenault are keeping the name of Marian College quite mentionable regarding the bowling league. Cute little Yvonne Gallant has taken up the family flag and is waving it quite frantically.

The future should bring drastic changes to the bowling standings. It is anticipated (or perhaps hoped) that the league leaders will be quelled by the Engineers and Juniors. An upsurge in the Sophomore team and a strengthening of the Freshmen teams are other events to watch for in bowling.

SAINTS BOW TO ## DEVILS

With a performance that astounded some 1,000 spectators, the Varsity Saints opened their home season with a bitter battle by suffering a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the University of New Brunswick Red Devils. Led by the simply brilliant goaltending of Frank "Butch" Callaghan who was undaunted for the first thirty minutes of play, the Saints surged ahead with a 3-0 lead on goals by Tingley and Cullen in the first period and another by Tingley at the mid-mark in the second. The aggressive lines of Tingley, Marshall, Mulligan, and Cullen, Manz, and Monaghan kept the Red Devils hopping every minute of the first period as they continuously hemmed the puck in the U.N.B. zone, much to the delight of the Saints' fans who never diminished in their roars or approval.

The Saints began the final period with a 3-1 lead, but fatigue eventually became apparent as the Devils roared back with a three-goal outburst which gave them a one-goal lead which they refused to be deprived of, despite a three-minute effort by the Saints in which they did everything but put the puck in the net. However, none was disappointed with the superb display put on by our team. The rookie line of Royle, Brophy, and Flynn made a fine showing as did defencemen Peddle, O'Brien, McMillan, and Vince Mulligan. Special mention is again due Butch Callaghan who displayed his finest showing yet this year.
